NEW YORK (AP)—A federal aviation official said Wednesday a Pan American World Airways jetliner was warned just before it cracked up that it was coming into Kennedy Airport too high.

All 145 persons aboard survived, although 48 were injured when the aircraft overshot its runway Tuesday night and snapped in two. A thick cushion of mud on the scene and fastened seat belts helped avert a disaster.

Meanwhile, two other planes landing in New York in drizzle and overcast went off runways Wednesday, in what experts called an unprecedented sequence of accidents. Seventy-eight persons aboard the two planes escaped injury.

House Passes Food Stamp Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House early Thursday passed a sweeping cotton-wheat subsidy bill and sent it directly to President Johnson. The vote was 211 to 203.

The post-midnight vote came after earlier approval of a food stamp program for needy families.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Wednesday night passed a food stamp bill for needy families, 229-189, and pushed on to consider a controversial wheat-cotton bill even though the clock crept toward midnight.

The vote came after 10:30 p.m. EST in a boisterous night session marked by Republican delaying tactics and a matching stubbornness on the part of Democratic leaders.

A & P To Close Scranton Bakery

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Union officials said Wednesday night A & P food stores had notified them the company is closing its Scranton bakery Aug. 1.

The surprise announcement will mean the loss of about 260 jobs, a spokesman for the American Bakery and Confectioners Workers Union said.

The union said the announcement was made by Arthur Howe an A & P official from New York City headquarters who said a new multimillion dollar bakery at Flushing, N. Y., will serve the area.

Awards Put Up For Girl Slayer

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Rewards totaling $3,000 were announced Wednesday for the arrest and conviction of the rapist-slayer of eight-year-old Marilee Chiverella. She was slain March 18 while en route to a Roman Catholic parish school.

The rewards were $1,000 from an anonymous donor; $500 from the Hazleton Standard Speaker; $500 from radio station WAZL; $500 from the Honeybrook Mine Co.; $200 from Angela Amusement Park; and $300 from miscellaneous donors.

Oklahoma Judge Cited On Taxes

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Justice Earl Welch of the Oklahoma Supreme Court was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on five counts of income tax evasion.

Also indicted was N. S. Corn, a former State Supreme Court justice who now is retired.

Welch, 72, is expected to appear before a U.S. commissioner Thursday.

He faces a possible 25-year prison sentence and $50,000 fine if convicted on all five counts.

Welty Convicted Of Bath Robbery

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John J. Welty, 31, was found guilty on five counts Wednesday night of robbing the First National Bank of Bath, Pa., of $28,000 last September.

A jury of nine women and three men deliberated about 5½ hours before returning its verdict in U.S. District Court.

Strike Threat Hurts Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The threat of a nationwide railroad strike sent rail shares down sharply Wednesday but the rest of the list showed enough selective strength to give the New York Stock Exchange an irregular advance on balance.

Trading was active.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 1.42 to 824.19. Volume was 5.39 million shares compared with 5.9 million Tuesday.

Gemini Soars In Preview Of U.S. Trip To Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—An unmanned Project Gemini capsule was propelled into orbit by a Titan 2 rocket Wednesday and the United States got a flying start toward a goal of launching two astronauts into space in a similar craft late this year.

Analysis of data on Wednesday's flight and a second unmanned firing scheduled in the summer will determine whether the manned mission will be achieved in November or December as planned.

Titan Boost

The powerful Titan 2, making its debut as a space booster, lifted off at 11 a.m. after a perfect countdown and hoisted the 7,000-pound spacecraft into an orbital path ranging from 99.6 to 204 miles high.

"We've got an orbit! It's a beauty," said the operations director, Walter C. Williams, just six minutes after blastoff.

Williams told a news conference later the high point was 21 miles higher than desired because of faster-than-planned booster speed. But he said that on a manned mission, the astronauts easily could correct this with their on-board fuel supply.

Project director Charles Mathews termed the flight a milestone in the program. He said Gemini teams can now move confidently toward an unmanned ballistic space craft test in the summer and a flight by two astronauts late in the year.

Data Search

Because officials sought only engineering data, no attempt was made to separate the spacecraft from the spent rocket casing.

The entire assembly, weighing 11,500 pounds, rocketed into orbit and was followed by the space agency's worldwide tracking network for little more than one orbit before its electrical power and radio beacon ceased as intended.

The satellite was expected to circle the earth silently for about 3½ days before burning up as a result of atmospheric friction. It is the second heaviest satellite launched by the United States, behind the world record 37,700-pound giant boosted by a Saturn rocket in January.

The Saturn satellite also was mostly dead weight, but both are considered significant steps toward a U.S. goal of landing astronauts on the moon in this decade.

Buenzli Champion Of LV Science Fair

ALLENTOWN — Charles Buenzli, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buenzli of 48 Stemple St., East Stroudsburg, has been named grand champion boy of the Lehigh Valley Science Fair at Muhlenberg College.

Buenzli's exhibit, which was tops in the engineering category, and won him the championship, was entitled, "A new method of conversion and recording of a DC to 5 MC band-pass video signal."

In short, it's a new method of putting a television signal on video tape.

Buenzli is a junior at East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School, and is taking chemistry this year under Grant Bartholomew.

"He's never taken physics," Bartholomew said, "but he's in the engineering club and the radio club."

"Needless to say, he's a very good student—an 'A' student," Bartholomew said.

The win gives Buenzli a chance to compete in the National Science Fair at Baltimore.

Many Prizes

Among Buenzli's prizes for winning the 18th Lehigh Valley fair are:

Soviet-Sino Border Tilt Begins Again

MOSCOW (AP)—The smoldering Soviet-Chinese border quarrel flared up Wednesday. The Russians accused the Chinese of provocatively breaching the border.

"The Chinese side," said the Soviet government news agency Tass, "has for some time continuously and systematically been violating the Soviet-Chinese border, often in a crude and provocative form."

Tass conceded some adjustments in the border may be necessary, but did not give any examples.

Honorable Mention

Other area students who won honorable mention for their exhibits are:

L. Weber of Stroud Union High School, "The Digital Computer" in the physics science division.

Walter Emery of Bangor High School, "Deep Freeze" and William Spangenberg of Bangor High School, "Ripple Tank Study and Wave Phenomena," both in the physics division.

Larry Smith, of Bangor, "Protective Conversation," and Shirley Booth of East Stroudsburg Joint High School, "Fossils Around Us" in the physiography division.

Ronald Heller of East Stroudsburg, "How Are Your Reflexes?" in the human biology division; and Karen Cascardio of Bangor, "The Effects of Radiation On Plants" in the plant biology division.

Coup Rumors Rampant In Viet Nam

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP)—Coup rumors are circulating again in Saigon, which has seen two coups in the last five months.

In the background is confusion over a reorganization of the armed forces by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the strong man premier, and a bogging down of South Viet Nam's normally sluggish bureaucracy.

One of the most vocal Saigon politicians, who declined to be identified by name, said Wednesday he would favor an entirely new government, "with none of the holdover personnel and traditions of the Ngo Dinh regime" deposed last November. He said there should be a shift in power either by a coup or a national revolution.

Shapp Names Donald James

HARRISBURG (AP)—Milton J. Shapp, industrialist, was named chairman Wednesday of a Philadelphia businessmen's committee supporting Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senate.

Other county chairmen coordinating business activities for Musmanno include:

Cambria — Robert S. Glass, Johnstown; Cameron — John Oswald, Emporium; Fayette — Wilbur D. Cook, New Salem; Lackawanna — Mrs. John Cuff, Scranton; McKean — Philip Scutella, Kane; Monroe — Donald E. James, Stroudsburg; Washington — Sen. William J. Lane, Fredericktown; Wayne — Walter Hook, Honesdale.

TWA To End Scranton Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board gave Trans World Airlines authority Wednesday to transfer to two local service airlines—Allegheny and Mohawk — responsibility to serve Albany and Binghamton, N. Y., and Scranton-Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport, Pa. The transfer is effective June 8.

The board also ended the authority of American Airlines to serve Scranton and Wilkes-Barre on its domestic route. American's Scranton-Wilkes-Barre authority on its New York-Toronto international route was not involved.

The agreement gives Mohawk a new route between Pittsburgh and Boston by way of Elmira-Corning, Binghamton-Endicott, Johnson City and Albany, N. Y., and Springfield-Westfield, Mass. Allegheny receives an extension of its Pittsburgh-New York route beyond Williamsport and Scranton-Wilkes-Barre to Boston by way of Bridgeport, New Haven, Hartford-Springfield and New London, Conn., and Providence, R. I.

The board agreed with its examiner that the changes would: Relieve American of a stop that results in a loss of about $30,000 a year, at a substantial benefit also to Allegheny; "Scranton's leading carrier."

But pending a news conference Thursday the governor refused to comment on a report published by a Philadelphia morning newspaper that he is no longer receptive to a draft.

The 46-year-old Scranton has been saying for almost a year that he is not interested in becoming a candidate but that he would accept the Republican nomination under a "sincere and honest" draft.

Scranton has long promised Harrisburg newsmen that if he ever changed that position he would make the announcement.

"He now has such an announcement," Press Secretary Jack L. Conny said in a memo

Steel Firms Deny Charge, Vow To Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp. and Bethlehem Steel Co. one-two ranking producers, Wednesday denied government conspiracy charges and vowed to fight them vigorously.

Edmund F. Martin, Bethlehem vice chairman, said they were brought for reasons of harassment.

C. S. Steel, Bethlehem and six other large steel firms were indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday or charges of conspiracy to fix prices on carbon steel sheets from 1955 to 1961.

U. S. Steel characterized its denial of the accusations as emphatic. It became the fifth concern to label them as untrue or unjustified.

"The matters charged in the indictment are not true," Martin said.

"We deny that any present or former employee of Bethlehem was guilty of the violation of the antitrust laws that are charged."

British Betrayed U.S. In Korea, MacArthur Quoted

NEW YORK (AP)—The late Gen. of the Army Douglas MacArthur, in a secret interview, was quoted Wednesday as saying the Chinese Communists entered the Korean War "after being assured by the British that MacArthur would be hamstrung and could not effectively oppose them."

Jim Lucas, in a copyright story for the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, said MacArthur told him in 1954: "On several occasions during the Korean War he had the Communists in the palm of my hand and could have crushed them but was circumvented by the perfidy of the British and by constant harassment and interference from Washington."

"He referred to this as the great betrayal, a story he said was unmatched in history but will never be told while I am alive," Lucas added.

"He said every message he sent to Washington and every message Washington sent to him was shown to the British by the State Department and that, within 48 hours, was relayed by the British, either through India or through the Russian Embassy in London, to the Chinese Communists."

"Thus he said, the Chinese Communists knew in advance every step he proposed to take."

"At Wake Island in October 1950, Gen. MacArthur said, he told President Truman that if the Chinese Communists intervened in Korea, he would let them cross the Yalu River and then bomb their bridges behind them, cutting their supply lines, and causing them to starve a while before being destroyed."

"He insists this strategy was relayed by the British to the Chinese Communists with assurances he—MacArthur—would not be permitted to do any such thing."

There was little immediate comment on the MacArthur interview.

In Washington, State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips said: "I would not think of making a comment on this purported statement at any time and particularly at this time."

A British Embassy spokesman in Washington said, "We think the story is unfounded."

MacArthur died Sunday at the age of 84. His body was brought to New York but returned Wednesday to Washington, preparatory to interment in Norfolk, Va.

Lucas, winner of a Pulitzer Prize for Korean War reporting, now is covering the war in South Viet Nam.

He said he spent about two hours with MacArthur on Jan. 20, 1954, as the five-star general approached his 74th birthday.

The Scripps-Howard Newspapers said in an editorial note: "Jim wrote for his editors a memo on that interview, which has rested in his office files all these years, since Jim felt honor-bound not to report any of it as long as Gen. MacArthur was alive."

Lucas wrote of MacArthur: "Incidentally, he was extremely bitter about published reports he had assured Truman the Chinese would not intervene in Korea—a statement he insists he did not make—and regards it as part of a 'leftist press' plot to discredit him."

MacArthur was critical of many of the Americans he dealt with during the Korean War, among them President Truman.

Lucas writes: "Gen. MacArthur frequently expressed bitterness when he spoke of Truman, but he paid him grudging respect as a man of raw courage and guts. The little bastard honestly believes he is a patriot."

"He has not told me what he is going to say," Conny added. Conny denied knowledge of a memo which the newspaper reported said the governor dictated, removing Scranton as a possible draft choice at the GOP convention July 13 in San Francisco.

Affable as usual, the governor deeply thanked, refused to comment on the story, saying: "I'll talk to you at length and deep tomorrow."

"The developments touched off a wave of speculation, dismay and even anger among Scranton's close associates. Some of them have been pushing him hard to make a try for GOP nomination in view of the failure of announced candidates to forge into the lead."

Scranton To Bare Views On GOP Race

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton said Wednesday he will discuss the Republican presidential nomination "at length and deep" Thursday, indicating a change in his possible candidacy.

But pending a news conference Thursday the governor refused to comment on a report published by a Philadelphia morning newspaper that he is no longer receptive to a draft.

Wallace Primary Power Baffling

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Was the unexpectedly large vote for Alabama Gov. George Wallace in Tuesday's Wisconsin presidential primary a thumping victory for anti-civil rights forces? Or did it represent a grudge vote by Republicans against the state's Democratic governor?

Interpretations were as varied as Wisconsin's political makeup Wednesday in the wake of the segregationist Democratic governor's 261,148 votes.

Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, however, won the entire delegation of 46 to the Democratic National Convention. Reynolds, running as a favorite son pledged to President Johnson, received 508,597 votes in the unofficial Associated Press count.

Rep. John Byrnes, who was unopposed as a Republican favorite son, got 294,721.

Wallace, who had said he would consider it a victory if he received more than 25,000 votes, thus captured nearly 25 per cent of the total votes cast. Reynolds had 47.8 per cent and Byrnes 27.6 per cent.

"We won without winning," said Wallace, whose one-month campaign in Wisconsin was centered on attacks on the civil rights bill and alleged encroachment of federal government into private lives.

Johnson Salutes Mac At Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, the last commander in chief of Gen. of the Army Douglas MacArthur, saluted his memory with an impressive tribute Wednesday as the celebrated soldier's body was carried to the Capitol to lie in state.

It was placed on a black-draped bier in the high-domed rotunda where, last November, President John F. Kennedy's body lay in state.

Nationwide Walkout Set For Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz told railroad and union negotiators Wednesday night "the public interest demands" that they settle their work rules dispute immediately and avert a threatened nationwide strike.

At an emergency meeting ordered by President Johnson, Wirtz told representatives of five train operating unions and representatives of nearly 200 railroads:

"I am going to continue the present session until this result is reached."

The spokesmen, A. F. Zinn, a union negotiator, said the public interest demands that they settle their work rules dispute immediately and avert a threatened nationwide strike.

At an emergency meeting ordered by President Johnson, Wirtz told representatives of five train operating unions and representatives of nearly 200 railroads:

"I am going to continue the present session until this result is reached."

Illinois Strike

The emergency meeting was called after a strike against the Illinois Central Railroad grew into a threat that more than 200,000 rail workers would walk off their jobs across the nation at 12:01 a.m. Friday.

The new rail crisis, part of the long and involved five-year-old railroad work rules dispute, is primarily over money issues.

Wirtz made the statement to the chiefs or the representatives of the five unions and chief railroad negotiator J. E. Wolfe and eight members of his advisory board.

There was no immediate report of any response from the industry or union representatives to Wirtz's appeal.

Wirtz told reporters the next step would be for him to talk separately with each side.

Earlier in the day, the surprise strike against the Illinois Central was described by Wolfe as "typical of the unions' continual irresponsibility in the featherbedding dispute."

Wolfe said the railroads would respond by imposing the disputed work rules changes across the country, effective at 12:01 a.m. Friday.

"The employees won't work under these rules," a union spokesman said in Chicago.

Union To Strike Pennsy Railroad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Transport Workers Union will strike the Pennsylvania Railroad whether or not the American Association of Railroads carries through with its announced plan to invoke new work rules at midnight Friday.

The presidents of 40 union locals, acting on the recommendation of union President Michael J. Quill, voted unanimously at a meeting here Wednesday to call the walkout to protest alleged contract violations.

Contracts Delayed

SU Board Seeks Rights Of Way

STROUDSBURG — The Stroud Union School Board and four property owners along Little Pocono Creek — in an area where Stroud Union's new junior high school is scheduled to be built — are still negotiating right of way easements.

Failure to get these easements could hold up the board's issuing contracts for the construction of the school. Bids for this project along with bids for renovations to the existing junior - senior high school and building a new athletic stadium were opened April 3.

Hope For Settlement

Robert Heilmann, school board president, said last night at a joint meeting of the board and the Stroudsburg Area School Authority. "Negotiations are under way to have this all cleared up. We hope to have it settled in the next couple of days." Four owners have already signed easements.

M. R. Keifer, of Rinker, Keifer and Rake, architects for the project, said, "If the property owners do not sign the easements we have another possibility" for completing the project. He did not elaborate on the suggestion.

The right of way are needed to build the new school. The creek flows between the existing building and Gordon Giffels Field and empties into Pocono Creek.

$1.5 Million Bids

Last night the school board gave Keifer the authority to inform contractors the board intend to accept low bids totaling $1,565,626.

This figure included the new building, renovations to the present building, building a new stadium and fieldhouse and site preparation for all the projects.

A total bond issue of $1,670,000 will be required to complete the project, according to Gordon Pfau, vice president of Woodcock, Moyer, Fricke and French of Philadelphia, investment counselors.

The added $104,374 includes contingency fund, $76,374; bond supervision, $10,000; bond counsel, $7,300; local counsel, $5,300; bond printing, $4,000; authority expense, $300, and bond trustee expense, $700.

$2.1 Million Total Cost

The board will pay $107,875 annually to retire the proposed bond issue. Pfau said the life of the issue will "not exceed 20 years."

If the issue is set up for 20 years, Stroud Union taxpayers will pay $2,157,500 in principal and interest to retire the bonds.

The Stroudsburg Area School Authority will meet with Pfau Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the high school to make a final decision on the bond issue.

Pfau said last night his firm will make two proposals to the authority on Wednesday. They will be, according to Pfau:

1. The possibility of setting up a bond issue of $1,670,000 to finance the proposed projects.
2. The possibility of combining that issue with bond issues floated in 1958 and 1961. The 1958 issue has a balance of $1,200,000 and the 1961 issue has $750,270 outstanding.

If these two issues were refunded and added to the new issue a total bond of $3,100,000 would be required. Pfau said last night if the two existing issues were refunded a substantial savings could be effected.

He explained the "money market" is better today than it was in 1956 and 1961. The investment expert said $80,000 could be saved over the life of the bond issue if the school authority has one bond issue instead of three.

Barry Blocks Pa. Write-Ins

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Barry Goldwater today publicly thanked his Pennsylvania supporters for their many effective activities on his behalf but asked them not to organize any write-in campaign for him in the Pennsylvania primary, April 28.

Commented the Republican front-runner in Washington: "I appreciate deeply the wonderful work being done by the many Goldwater committees throughout Pennsylvania as well as the contributions of tens of thousands of individuals dedicated to our cause of freedom."

"However, I have previously stated I would not campaign in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I stand by that statement. I have previously stated that I would not attempt to stop citizens of Pennsylvania from running in the primary pledged to my candidacy. I now state that I hope there will be no organized write-in campaign on my behalf in the Pennsylvania, April 28 primary."

Musmanno Wins Backer

HARRISBURG (AP)—Joseph J. Lawler, Lackawanna County Democrat and chairman of the State Turnpike Commission, added his endorsement Wednesday of Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno for the U.S. Senate.

Musmanno is the organization-endorsed candidate in the Democratic primary. Two independent candidates oppose him: —Miss Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, and David Roberts, Allegheny County prothonotary.

Behm's New Post $40,000 A Year

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Charles H. Behm, state superintendent of public instruction since 1956, submitted his official resignation Wednesday to Gov. Scranton, effective May 8.

Behm said he was stepping down from the $20,000 state post to take a job with the U.S. State Department as chief of an educational mission in Bogota, Colombia.

His new salary, Behm said, would be "roughly double" what he receives now.

Behm's 18-month tour of duty in Bogota will be under the auspices of the Agency for International Development, he said.

Behm and Gov. Scranton said side by side in making the official announcement of the effective date of the resignation. No mention was made of rumors that Behm might be resigning because of differences with the Scranton Administration.

Man Sitting In Road Killed

BRISTOL, Pa. (AP) — A tow truck summoned to a fire in an aluminum plant around midnight Tuesday struck a man who, police said, apparently was sitting in the middle of a road and partially obscured by fog.

Killed was Eleuterio R. Alsua, 25, of Morrisville R.D., a recent arrival from Puerto Rico, who worked in a Levittown car wash.

David Buma, 18, Bristol, driving the tow truck, said he had helped free a fire vehicle, and was en route back to the garage when Alsua suddenly loomed out of the fog. He braked and swerved but couldn't avoid him, he said.

The fire damaged the Windsor Aluminum Co. Three firemen were injured fighting the blaze that reportedly started among crates of chairs and rubber mattresses.

Fire Chief William Bolton said the smoke became so dense a hole had to be cut in the roof. Damage was confined to the second floor.

Scranton Backers To Meet In KC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania for the Republican presidential nomination will meet in Kansas City April 25 and 26 to set up a national organization, Richard C. Peet said this week.

Peet, a Washington attorney, has been active in the movement to organize support for the Pennsylvania governor outside Scranton's home state. Scranton has refused to encourage efforts to win him the nomination, but has said he would not refuse a genuine draft.

Peet said that, respecting Scranton's declared wishes, he did not seek the governor's permission to hold the Kansas City meeting, but did notify Pennsylvania Scranton leaders of his intentions. No objections have been voiced, he said.

Future Depot Employees To Tour Monroe Area Friday

TOBYHANNA — A group of 50 employees from the Schenectady Army Depot will come to Tobyhanna Friday to view operations at the sprawling army installation there. Certain operations at Schenectady are being phased out and will be transferred to the Tobyhanna depot.

The 50 employees are engineering personnel engaged in the overhaul and maintenance of earth moving equipment, generators and specialized vehicles. This is the operation that will be added to Tobyhanna's present electrical and electronic activities.

The Schenectady people will be briefed and shown all phases of the installation's operations. The briefing and tour will begin at noon with lunch in the depot's cafeteria.

The visitors will then be bused to different depot operations which will be explained by ranking personnel.

The group will then attend a panel question and answer period. The panel will be made up of ranking Tobyhanna officials and six members of local chamber of commerce and really bond officials.

The army will then take the group to Stroudsburg for dinner and give them an opportunity to inspect the town and the surrounding area.

In anticipation of Monroe County absorbing some of the Schenectady personnel who will be transferred, the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce has made a survey of the economic impact 100 additional workers would make on a community.

The chamber's study reveals 100 workers would bring 350 more people and 91 more school children to a community.

The workers would require $800,000 in personal income and $229,000 in bank deposits to town they settle in.

The workers and their families would require three more retail stores to meet their needs and would spend $331,000 on retail goods. They would also create jobs for 65 people in non-manufacturing positions.

The group would add 97 more registered passenger cars to a community.

Actor Peter Lawford and his wife Patricia, sister of the late President Kennedy, are not desirable tenants in the eyes of the board chairman of a plush cooperative apartment house.

The reported reasons: Lawford's occupation and his wife's politics.

As a result, according to Charles Aronson, who wanted to sell his 16 room apartment to the Lawfords, the board chairman voted down four other board members and blackballed the Lawfords.

Astronaut Scott Carpenter was a different kind of a hero to the kids of Houston, Texas this week. And their parents, too.

Carpenter solved a dangerous problem, when a boy threw a metal rake into power lines while trying to free a tangled kite string.

The lines shortcircuited, snapped and fell on a metal fence around a yard where several children were playing.

The astronaut grabbed an ax and chopped the wires free of the fence.

"The kids were screaming and everyone was running around confused but Scott was the only one who knew what to do," a neighbor said.

A prehistoric cave adorned with drawings of mammoths, antelopes, a lion and a deer wounded by an arrow was discovered near Toulouse.

Archaeologist said the large cave probably dates to a fiercely cold age.

Cold age but it looks like a hot find.

TV Antenna Firm's Fate Now In Hands Of Solons

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission said Wednesday the State Legislature should decide who has jurisdiction over community television antenna companies.

The statement came as a supplement to a recent ruling by the PUC that it has no authority over antenna firms providing booster service in difficult reception areas.

Chairman Joseph Sharfstein and Commissioners P. Stephen Stahlnecker and Maurice H. Claster took the position that a bill giving the PUC specific jurisdiction over cable companies would clear up the problem.

Commissioners William F. O'Hara and Dr. John L. Dorris, however, contend that the PUC already has authority over antenna companies, as "full and complete" as that over similar utilities such as telephone and telegraph.

Sharfstein noted that no state with regulatory provisions such as those in Pennsylvania exercises jurisdiction over cable companies.

He also pointed out that appellate courts have rejected efforts of several commissions to do so on grounds that such action is beyond legislative mandate.

In a joint dissent, O'Hara and Dorris said it "seems obvious" that the cable firms are "conveying or transmitting communications by telephone or telegraph for the public for compensation."

"We have no difficulty in concluding," they added, "that antenna facilities, services and charges are deeply impressed with a public interest and are public utilities subject to regulation."

The PUC late last year opened an inquiry to determine whether it has authority over the antenna firms.

The question was debated at a Feb. 5 hearing where Rep. George W. Heffner, R-Schuylkill, urged the PUC to take jurisdiction over the cable lines. His position was opposed by the Pennsylvania Community Antenna Television Association, Inc., Meadville.

Barrett Twp. Planners Look Toward Future

(This is the fifth in a series of articles on the Barrett Planning Commission, its master plan and subdivision ordinance.)

By Jim Ottaway Jr.
Daily Record Editor

MOUNTAINHOME — Looking to the future of Barrett Township, its planning commission recommended in a master plan completed Jan. 1, 1963, a number of capital improvements.

In a financial analysis of the township, the commission estimated that all of the needed projects could be financed between 1963 and 1968 "with a minimum impact on the annual budget."

Using available borrowing power and the present six mill tax rate, the master plan estimated that $330,000 of improvements could be built with state and county aid and borrowing at an average annual cost over seven years of $51,000 to $60,000.

The township supervisors have not put that capital improvements plan into effect yet, but this is what the planning commission said in its master plan will be necessary by 1980:

Sewer System — The master plan calls for public sewer facilities for all homes in built-up sections of the township. The existing sewer authority has the power to build such a system, issue bonds and pay them off with revenues from sewer charges.

According to the 1960 census, only 119, or less than eight per cent of the township's houses are connected to the private sewer systems at Buck Hill and Skytop. The rest of the 1,533 houses in 1960 had private septic tanks or cesspools.

But, the master plan warns, "most of the soil in Barrett Township is generally unsuitable for septic tank operation because of the extensive rock formations" and shallow soil cover.

Although the master plan states, "The township has recently employed professional engineers to study the feasibility of constructing sewer lines and a sewage treatment plant to serve most built-up sections of the township," the sewer authority has not yet been able to agree on completing such a study by Albright and Friel, Philadelphia engineers.

Highway Traffic — The master plan urges widening of major state highways in Barrett Township which carry the bulk of tourist traffic summer and winter.

It also recommends elimination of dangerous curves, acute angle intersections (forks) and sharp curves at several places in the township.

The only major new road suggested is one running from Cresco to the Rt. 290 "Creek Road" south of Canadensis, roughly parallel to Rt. 390 to eliminate congestion around residential and business areas between Mountainhome and Canadensis.

The master also urges the township to ask the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to improve Rt. 196 between Mt. Pocono and the Lake Wallenpaupack area to eliminate some of the through traffic congestion Barrett highways in the summer months.

Highways which are only 16 to 18 feet wide should be expanded to 24 feet pavement as "a desirable minimum" for busy roads in built-up areas on Routes 191, 290 and 390 between Cresco and Canadensis.

School Population

One bright spot in the future of the township, as the planning commission sees it, is the ability of the present Barrett Elementary School to handle projected increases in students from grades one through six through 1980, if Paradise Township pupils now brought to Barrett are transferred to another school.

Students in these grades should increase from 231 in 1960-61 to 295 in 1970 and 380 in 1980.

Total student population from grades one through twelve is projected to rise from 448 in 1960-61 to 525 in 1970 and 675 in 1980.

No major school building program is projected for either Barrett or the Pocono Mountain Joint High School in the near future.

Recreation Land

The master plan recommends purchase of two 10-acre sites for future public recreation areas with 50 per cent aid from Pennsylvania's Project 70 and 20 per cent federal aid cutting the cost to the township from $20,000 to $8,000.

The land should be bought before development shoots up the cost, the plan states.

The nine-acre community center site donated to the township north of Canadensis on Rt. 290 should be developed at an estimated cost of $5,000 after a landscaping and site preparation plan is made at an estimated cost of $1,000.

Advertising Sign Study — A study to set standards and controls on advertising signs is recommended.

"Current advertising sign practices throughout the township detract from its natural scenic beauties and create traffic hazards," the master plan states.

Zoning Study

The cost of a detailed zoning study, now in progress, is estimated at $1,800, with township share about $600 and the rest federal assistance under the "701" Planning Assistance Program.

This zoning study is almost complete, according to Elmer Daniels, chairman of the township planning commission. He said it would be presented to the public this summer for suggestions and criticisms.

It is a proposed zoning ordinance only. No ordinance takes effect until the township supervisors adopt it, as they did with the subdivision ordinance.

Next: The Barrett Township subdivision ordinance.

Court Dismisses Exceptions

STROUDSBURG — In a short opinion, Monroe County President Judge Fred W. Davis yesterday dismissed exceptions to an opinion on the settlement of the estate of the late Arch Keiper of Long Pond.

The exceptions were filed March 16 by Mrs. Sarah (Sadie) Keiper of Long Pond. Her argument, according to Judge Davis, consisted on a reiteration of her objection to paying any bills of the Arch Keiper estate.

Judge Davis noted that these objections had been ruled on in previous decrees and "therefore, need no further discussion."

Judge Davis thus dismissed the exceptions and decreed that the previous opinion of the court stands.

Gov. Faubus Takes Cude Kids Home

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus took three children of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cude of Mena, Ark., into the governor's mansion Tuesday to live with him temporarily.

He started legal machinery moving to return the children to their parents until their custody case can be settled.

The children were taken from the farm couple Monday on court order because the Cudes refuse to have them vaccinated so they can attend public schools.

The Cudes say they believe medical treatment is against the will of God.

Faubus and his wife, Alta, met the children on the steps of the mansion. The youngsters, Wayne, 12; Delia, 11, and Linda May, 8, grinned, introduced themselves, shook hands with Faubus and his wife, then went inside with the Faubuses.

The children were brought from Mena, in extreme west Arkansas, by deputy sheriffs. They spent Monday night at the home of Sheriff Harold Scoggin.

Faubus appointed Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett to represent the State Welfare Department in the case and Bennett asked for a court order naming Welfare Commissioner Jim Phillips as guardian. Faubus said Phillips would ask the Arkansas Supreme Court to amend an earlier order and let the children remain with their parents without vaccination until the Cudes can appeal the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Heart Disease Top Killer In County

Record Harrisburg Bureau HARRISBURG — Diseases of the heart led all other causes of death in Monroe County last year, according to preliminary figures released today by the State Department of Health.

The 186 county deaths attributed to heart diseases were more than twice the number caused by cancer, which was next with 81 deaths. In 1962, a total of 168 persons died from heart diseases, while 75 succumbed to cancer.

Total number of deaths in the county last year showed an upswing of 15 over 1962, climbing from 433 to 468, and upping the death rate for the county to 11.6 per 1,000 population. (The statewide average rounded out to 10.8).

In addition to heart diseases and cancer other leading causes of death in Monroe County last year were:

Vascular lesions of the central nervous system, 66 deaths (66 in 1962); diabetes mellitus, 84 (75); accidents other than motor vehicle, eight (ten); general arteriosclerosis, six (six); cirrhosis of the liver, five (three); nephritis, three (three).

The department also reported that Monroe County had 732 live births in 1963 as compared with 730 in 1962. The current birth rate stands at 18.2 per 1,000 population—0.9 below the statewide average of 19.1.

Township Planning

A current series of articles in The Daily Record about the Barrett Township Planning Commission and its master plan should help other Pocono Mountain townships and boroughs to see how much can be done toward planning for future growth with a relatively small amount of money.

The Barrett Township Planning Commission, set up and encouraged by the township supervisors in 1960, hired professional planning consultants, participated in the federal planning assistance program known as "701" and got two-thirds, or $3,600, of its $5,400 master plan cost from the government.

Neither the federal government nor the professional planning consultants forced any plan or project or regulation down the throats of the five-man Barrett Planning Commission, or the taxpayers of the township.

The master plan finished in January, 1963, is a recommendation by the planning commission to the township supervisors. They can take it or leave it. So far, the supervisors have adopted a subdivision ordinance but have not followed other suggestions of the plan. (See story on page 3).

The planning commission is now working on a proposed zoning ordinance.

The proposal will have no effect until the supervisors accept and adopt it.

There are many other townships in Monroe and Pike Counties and the Slate Belt area which need some kind of controls and planning for future housing developments, streets, highways, signs, sewers, septic tanks, water supply and a host of community problems.

Real estate development is booming ahead in many parts of the Pocono Mountains. Many townships are going to face serious problems of sewage, water pollution, street maintenance, traffic congestion and sign control before they know it.

The only protection property owners and residents have is to start planning now, find out how much growth has already taken place, what the township problems are, and what regulations are needed.

The job is different in each township. Only township residents can solve their local problems.

Tobyhanna Township has appointed a planning commission. (See story on page 8.) Eldred and Hamilton Townships have discussed planning and zoning.

We hope to see more action on this vitally important problem.

Rachel Carson Comes True

They are not laughing at Rachel Carson any more.

She is the courageous lady who in 1962 wrote the controversial book, "A Silent Spring," warning that insecticides are contaminating earth, water, foods, animals and humans.

She was criticized for being an alarmist when she wrote:

"For the first time in the history of the world, every human being is now subjected to contact with dangerous chemicals, from the moment of conception until death."

But recently a team of scientists proved that minute quantities of endrin—an insecticide used on farms—in the Mississippi River was causing large fish kills and had even entered the city water of New Orleans, drawn from the Mississippi River.

Suddenly the federal government is aroused to the problem. It poo-pooed Rachel Carson's book as an overstate-ment, but Tuesday an assistant secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare told a congressional committee:

"We cannot proceed in the same way in the future as in the past . . . As a matter of national prudence, every possible effort should be made to control the use of the persistent pesticides in our environment."

Now the federal government is more seriously considering controls on the use of pesticides. It has been suggested that the poisons might be sold on a prescription basis, through permits obtained from county farm agents or other government officials.

The problem is that normal application of insecticides on farms and orchards are contaminating the earth, running into streams and rivers and having still unmeasured effects on animals and human life.

They are not laughing at Rachel Carson any more.

Comment Of The Day

"How do you think you balance a (federal) budget?"

"You spend less money. That's how. You spend less for the Agriculture Department, and though I'm a veteran myself, you could spend less in the Veterans Administration. Spend less in everything but the Defense Department and the Postal Department."

—Senator Barry Goldwater during his campaign in Oregon.

TPA's Vie For Tourists

(Editor's Note: Robert J. Clark, managing editor of The Daily Record heard national and state officials and experts in the resort industry explore "The Billion Dollar Explosion in Tourism, Recreation and Parks" at a seminar in Harrisburg, Pa., one of 33 editors and publishers at the seminar, gives his views on the sessions.)

Third In A Series

Robert R. Shoemaker, the fellow who got the directorship of the Bureau of Vacation and Travel Development, Department of Commerce, over Ed Sweet, former Shawnee Inn conventions official, is a young man who hardly ever smiles.

But the most important bureau as far as the Pocono Mountains resort industry is concerned is in very capable hands.

Shoemaker, a native of Lancaster, breathes cats and sleeps the tourism industry. His specific jobs are to promote the program to attract tourists and to assist local groups in their promotional efforts.

Shoemaker is the type person who if he doesn't have the answer to your question at a moment's notice he'll get it for you within 24 hours.

This was the way we first met Shoemaker, a scholarly young man who shows it even to wearing horn-rimmed glasses.

We queried "what matching funds did the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau's get this year and what rating are they listed on the state level?"

He answered both without waiting 24 hours. PMVB received $17,100 last year and rates fourth in the matching fund league. Philadelphia, Allegheny, Delaware are the leaders. However, Shoemaker pointed out, next year Monroe will be fifth. Montgomery County will take over the fourth spot, showing Monroe down a notch.

Shoemaker said the commonwealth now has 47 active Tourist Promotion Agencies, and they represent 52 counties. In pointing out the growth of the program, he listed the formation of five new TPA's in 1963 as an example of the "steady growth and obvious value" of the program.

But it must be said that practically every county in the commonwealth is vying for the tourist dollar. Like one editor remarked, "Monroe (Pocono Mountains) is not alone anymore."

The state provides $350,000 on a matching fund basis for local promotional efforts of the TPA's which "represents a $700,000 grassroots effort in tourism," according to Shoemaker.

Shoemaker urged the counties erupting in "The Billion Dollar Explosion in Tourism, Recreation and Parks" to "look for hidden treasures and to have a critical eye."

He used as such examples of "something made out of nothing" like Yellowstone National Park, Atlantic City, Miami, Fla., and Cypress Gardens, Fla. In pushing each county, Shoemaker advised promoters to "select doors" for committees. "Pick the people that lead successful drives and know the county problems from stem to stern," he remarked.

Shoemaker cautioned against turning areas into honky-tonks. "Push planning and zoning. Be neat, be tidy. Develop a better place," he emphasized.

The graduate of Cornell's Hotel School cited the efforts of PP&L (Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.) to turn eyesores sites into respectable surroundings. He listed the utility's tree screen program in the coal regions such as those under way in the Shamokin and Scranton areas.

He said the state is recapturing some of the awards and pointed out that the tourism industry made more progress the past seven years than 100 years before.

Shoemaker listed "mature understanding" as the leading force behind the surge forward in the tourism industry.

Next: A new pitch for tourists.

Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Robert Kennedy is facing what could be the most critical decision of his career—whether to authorize the convening of a grand jury to consider charges against "Bobby" Baker.

Assistant Attorney General Herbert Miller, head of the Criminal Division, has indicated he will be ready to present such a case around mid-May.

Justice Department insiders credit Miller as favoring taking such action. But before he can proceed, it will be necessary for him—in the highly politics-charged Baker affair—to get the approval of his boss, the Attorney General.

The Allen-Scott Report

Baker Probe

With no formal recommendations yet before him, Kennedy is portrayed as having "an open mind" on initiating legal action against the one-time influential $19,500-a-year secretary of the Senate Democrats. But Justice Department authorities are taking it for granted that if Miller advocates grand jury action, Kennedy will okay it.

It has long been an open secret that no love was lost between the young Attorney

General and the equally youthful Baker.

However, the backstage word is that Deputy Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach is reportedly "dragging his feet." He is said to be counseling a "go slow" policy.

Behind the scenes, the question also is being raised of possible intense White House interest.

Walter Jenkins, among President Johnson's closest assistants and until recently an official of the LBJ (radio-TV) Co., was involved in the stormy Senate investigation of Baker. Republicans made repeated efforts to have Jenkins summoned for direct interrogation, but were voted down by the Democratic majority.

Whether a grand jury probe of Baker would affect Jenkins or others close to the President is not known. But this point is being avidly discussed by politicians in both parties.

Privately apprized of the possible grand jury proceedings, they are intensely watching what happens in both the Justice Department and the White House.

Other puzzlers—Involved in the issue of taking charges against Baker to a special federal grand jury is where that should be done—in the District of Columbia or the adjoining state of Maryland.

The former potent Senate official's activities covered both jurisdictions, and a decision would have to be made where to proceed against him.

Another potential problem is the report of the Senate investigating committee. This is now slated for some time in May, and is certain to be as furiously partisan as the probe has been.

The six Democratic committeemen will have a so-called majority report, and the three Republicans will have their own report. The two are certain to differ widely—with the Democrats soft-pedaling, and the Republicans castigating and exhorting right to the doorstep of the White House.

What effect, if any, these clashing findings would have on a grand jury investigation is conjectural. They are sure to have loud political impact.

Also still to be heard from are two other potentially decisive forces.

One is the Internal Revenue Service which is probing Baker's tax returns. It is understood the IRS expects to submit its findings to the Justice Department in a few weeks, in ample time for Assistant Attorney General Miller to consider them in making his recommendation to the Attorney General.

The other factor is Senator John Williams, R-Del., the veteran "one-man investigating committee," who precipitated the Baker investigation.

Williams is telling colleagues he has considerably more to say about the Baker case, and will make a series of Senate speeches. He will also make public correspondence he has had with various government agencies on the matter.

Dear Abby

She Sees Red!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In 1959 my husband lent a man $500. He was so sure that he was good for it that he didn't ask him to sign a note or anything. This man has made no effort to pay back one cent of it. Now get this. This deadbeat's sister is married to one of the richest and most prominent men in the state! Everybody knows him. He has given away millions, yet his own brother-in-law has owed a man $500 for four years. I told my husband to get in touch with this rich brother-in-law and ask him for the money. It would be like five cents to him, but it is a lot of money to us. My husband refuses to do it. I am tempted to contact him myself. Would that be wrong?

CS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Yes. No man, rich or poor, is responsible for his brother-in-law's debts. In cases such as this, it is probable that he has already given his brother-in-law all the help he intends to, and has washed his hands of him (which is his privilege). Stay out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband started accusing me of things I never thought of doing. My hand on a Bible, Abby, I never looked at another man in the 34 years we have been married. He kept at me and kept at me until I finally "confessed" just so he would leave me alone. Now he is worse than ever. I have tried to tell him that I am not guilty, and I only said I was so I could get some peace and quiet, but he doesn't believe me. Life is not worth living any more. If it weren't for our children and grandchildren I would know what to do. Can you help me?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Try to get your husband to your family physician for a "checkup." If he refuses to go, call your physician and tell him your problem. Excessive suspicion, without cause, is a common symptom of mental illness.

DEAR ABBY: On the subject of whether the clergyman should be paid extra for services that are a part of his "duty," may I add my remarks? Many couples who can afford only a small ceremony in the parson's living room forget that even the smallest wedding costs something. The last one cost us $15. We were offered $5, but we refused it because the couple were struggling students. But at some of the more elaborate church weddings when the cake, which is NOT essential, costs $75, and the preacher, who IS essential, costs nothing, it makes one wonder where the value system went.

Speaking Of Your Health:

Simple Ulcer Diet

Diets are of special importance in many illnesses. They play a particularly significant role in the lives of patients with ulcers and other stomach and intestinal disorders.

The confusion about low residue diets in duodenal and gastric ulcers has been clarified by a diet committee of the American Dietetic Association.

The members of the group suggest:

1) Small, easily digestible feedings at frequent intervals to prevent the stomach from remaining empty for any length of time. Three meals and three in-between snacks should be taken each day.

Foods To Avoid

2) Mechanically irritating foods like cabbage, chemically irritating foods like curry, and foods which cause an increase of stomach acid, like strong black coffee and tea, should be avoided.

3) Patients with stomach ulcers should not take alcohol in any form; patients with duodenal ulcers should avoid an excess of alcohol.

4) Cigarettes are permitted only after meals and patients are advised to reduce by one half the number smoked.

All patients present individual peculiarities, even with similar disorders. Specific diets should be custom-designed for each patient. Consideration is given both to the illness and the psychological makeup of the patient.

Diets, therefore, should not be distributed haphazardly from friend to friend because "It worked for me."

Patients have often complained that doctors seem to wash their hands in ice water and that they keep their stethoscopes in the refrigerator, before they "listen" to the chest. The funny, examining - room gowns seem hardly sufficient to cover the breakout of the patient's goose pimples.

Physicians have sympathetically remedied this "chilling" experience by the simple procedure of warming hands and stethoscopes under hot water before the examination.

Prize-Worthy Technique

An informal questionnaire survey indicates that patients would like to confer the Nobel Prize on the doctor who conceived this "heart - warming" technique.

There is another source of distress to patients that has recently been eliminated by the brilliant suggestion of Dr. Robert A. Garisch of Detroit, Mich.

Man needs God to see him through.

And so a wise man understands.

Then there is much that God can't do. Without the aid of human hands.

Stories Behind Words

by William S. Penfield

Ammonia

Ammonia is a colorless alkaline gas composed of hydrogen and nitrogen.

The gas, which has a pungent odor, is easily soluble in water. In fact, the household liquid we call ammonia is a solution of water and ammonia.

Ammonia is so called because it was first obtained from camel's dung near the temple of Jupiter Ammon, an ancient Egyptian deity.

Most commercial ammonia is now obtained as a byproduct in the production of coal gas.

The Pennsylvania Story

How Wide Demo Rift?

By Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — Two prime factors will largely determine the outcome of the April 28 primary contest between Secretary of Internal Affairs Governor-elect Blatt and Supreme Court Judge Michael Musmanno for the Democratic U.S. senatorial nod.

First factor revolves around the true extent of the split within the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania: the second, the degree of personal following Miss Blatt can muster as the non-organization candidate.

In the east of Blatt versus Musmanno it isn't simply the old question of whether the non-organization-backed candidate can win over the organization-endorsed candidate as has been routinely offered by conventional on-the-surface observers.

Past history of organization versus non-organization campaigns and the Blatt-Musmanno scrap are about as related as the bull mouse and the penguin and even that's stretching it a few points!

In the first place, on the Democratic Party front, while Miss Blatt does not have the endorsement of most of the top party big-wigs — formally, she does have an amazing, somewhat informal, tacit degree of support from many of these very members of the party hierarchy.

While this of course means she will not have the full-blooded "official" support of the party big-wigs, it does not mean she will have no support; to the contrary, a goodly number of these already are working in her behalf in a genuine offhand manner, for example, by not actively flying off the handle in support of organization-backed Judge Musmanno!

This is one phase of the organization versus the non-organization picture.

A second phase of this same picture will be found in the degree of personal following Miss Blatt enjoys within the party ranks.

There are those among her backers who remember the days when it was just about Miss Blatt alone who labored in the vineyard of the Democratic Party during those lean and hungry years not too far distant when literally there was no Democratic Party at all in the Keystone State — other than Miss Blatt and a few now old-time faithfuls.

Newcomers to the scene — particularly within the pundit ranks — forget for never knew about this facet of the Blatt picture in Pennsylvania politics, but those who have trod the path within the party over the years remember well the Gueveve Blatt of yesterday.

These are the ones not expected to forget when the showdown comes later this month in selecting the Democratic senatorial candidate; the

Walter Lippmann

Saigon Silence

By Walter Lippmann

Whatever the reasons for Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's increasing strength among Republican voters, he is not open to criticism on the ground that he is playing politics from an embassy abroad.

When he asked President Kennedy for a diplomatic post, he must have been as certain as was everyone else that he had retired permanently from active politics. He could not conceivably have had it in mind to run as the Republican candidate against John F. Kennedy, to whom he lost two elections.

Ambassador to South Vietnam was just about the meanest and most difficult diplomatic post that could have been offered to anyone, and when he accepted it he proved beyond all cavil his stout-heartedness and the sincerity of his public spirit.

No doubt, some of the political strength he showed in New Hampshire, and seems now to be showing again in Oregon and California, is based on the fact that he is a patriotic public servant and that the people realize it. But that cannot be the whole source of his support, and we may be certain that some very considerable part of it is due to public weariness with Goldwater, Rockefeller and Nixon.

Undoubtedly, Republicans in search of a candidate are ascribing to him virtues and abilities which they wish the Republican nominee to have. The more Lodge does not speak, the more Goldwater and Rockefeller do speak, the more easily is this distinguished and prepossessing man idealized. No wonder Governor Rockefeller is crying out that the contest is unfair, that the ambassador should come out of his privileged sanctuary in Saigon and begin to shake hands in the supermarket!

It is most certainly true that if Mr. Lodge did emerge from Saigon and did begin to make campaign speeches, he would have to take a position on the controversial issues which divide the Republican Party as they divide the country.

He would have to speak out about the civil rights bill, about the campaign against poverty, about education, about medical care for the aged, about urban renewal — and about Cuba and Vietnam. With Senator Goldwater controlling a large block of Republican delegates to the San Francisco convention, it would become more and more difficult for Mr. Lodge to be nominated if Mr. Lodge said what it is reasonable to assume that he believes.

But, of course, on the one subject he knows most about, Vietnam, it is entirely impossible for him to make a partisan issue. The Johnson-McNamara policy in South Vietnam is inseparable from the Lodge policy as well.

His best course, it seems to me, is to stay at his post in Saigon unless and until he is drafted by the Republican convention. There is no point of honor which requires him to resign before that. And there is every practical political reason for supposing that he is more likely to be drafted if he is not an active candidate than if he is.

President Kennedy was, we may be sure, quite well aware of the political uses of appointing such a prominent Republican as Henry Cabot Lodge to South Vietnam. It was in line with his regular practice, to neutralize public issues by looking for a Republican whom he could appoint to the controversial offices.

President Johnson is working with the same pattern in selecting General Eisenhower's secretary of the Treasury to negotiate about the treaty with Panama.

Athletic Budget At PM Questioned

SWIFTWATER — Pocono Mountain Joint School Board member John Montgomery and jointure athletic director Joseph Murray were embroiled in an hour-long battle over athletic finances at the joint board meeting last night.

Montgomery opened the argument, noting that the athletic department asked for $7,000. Murray said that the total expenditure should amount to $12,000 approximately, because of an additional estimated $5,000 from gate receipts.

Montgomery then started itemizing the entries in the athletic budget — part of the tentatively adopted over-all budget of $1,215,075.

He took exception first to approximately $200 for scouting. "Do we need scouts? We're not the big time," he said.

Limiting the fields came next. It was budgeted at about $500. "You could buy 20 tons of lime for that price," Montgomery said.

"We buy lime that will not burn the eyes," Murray said. "If we used regular lime we'd have doctor bills over $500. Besides, you have to pay someone to lime the fields."

Montgomery said that someone in the school should do the liming.

PV School Board Reviews Budget; 2 Teachers Resign

BRODHEADSVILLE — Resignations of two teachers were accepted by the Pleasant Valley Joint School Committee 1 a s t night at the meeting in the high school at Brodheadsville.

The board also reviewed a proposed budget of $554,478.30 for the 1964-65 school year.

Teachers resigning were Miss Ruth Brytogle and Mrs. Betty M. Bryner. Both are first grade teachers in the jointure.

Miss Brytogle's letter stated she was getting married in the summer and would be moving from the area.

Mrs. Bryner's letter stated "I want to rear a family."

Mrs. Shirley Haydt was hired to replace one of the two resigning teachers. She will get a starting salary of $4,900. She has two years experience.

On a roll call vote to hire Mrs. Haydt, 10 of the committee members voted yes. Two opposed her hiring. Opposed were Robert Anderson and Mrs. Muriel Hildabrant.

Phone Call: M-48 Tank On Way To Stroudsburg

STROUDSBURG — It's not every day that you pick up the phone and hear: "You are in receipt of one tank with a 90 millimeter gun" — but that's what happened to 1st Sgt. Donald Smith Monday.

Smith, head non-com of Company A, 6th Battalion, 68th Armored, U. S. Army Reserve in Stroudsburg, was notified of the shipment of the tank by the Tobyanna Army Depot.

The tank is an M-48, weighing a hefty 48 tons and sporting a gun that can demolish houses with a single shot.

It will be taken to the Stroudsburg center on Bank Alley sometime next week, Smith said.

The tank, along with an open-sided tank trainer, will be used as a training device for the armor outfit.

Smith said that another innovation at the center is daily operation. Before March, the center was only open on meeting dates or occasional Saturdays.

With the employment of Frank M. Chrobak, a full-time civilian employee, the center is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. five days a week.

"This will allow persons who want to learn about the unit and reserve programs to stop in when it's convenient for them," Smith said.

Passenger Hurt In Accident

STROUDSBURG — A passenger complained of a head injury after a car-truck accident yesterday on Rt. 209.

Thomas Schaller of East Stroudsburg RD 3, a passenger in the pickup complained of the bump. He said he would see a family doctor.

The accident occurred at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday, three miles west of Stroudsburg on Rt. 209 a short distance from Shaffer's School House.

Donald F. Koehler, 17, of Saylorsburg RD 1 was reportedly traveling west when he struck the rear of the pick-up truck which was about to make a left turn into a trailer court.

Frederick E. Smith, 26, of Henryville RD 1, driver of the truck, had his two sons, Larry, 6, and Robert, 3, in the truck at the time.

Les Rice, assistant police chief in Stroud Twp., said damage to the Koehler car is estimated at $600 and damage to the Smith truck at $25.

Rice added, the investigation is being continued.

$15.5 Billion 'Ouch' Suffered

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Americans suffered a collective $15.5-billion "ouch" in accidents last year.

Accidents cost that sum in 1963 in wage losses, medical fees, hospital expenses, legal claims, property damage, and lost industrial production, the Institute for Safe Living of the American Mutual Liability Co. reported Tuesday.

The hands are regularly exposed to a wide variety of irritants and sensitizers, especially among industrial workers.

Negotiations On Homes To Start May 11

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Monroe County Redevelopment Authority plans to notify property owners in the Courtland St. Project area of prices to be given for their properties beginning May 11, King Beers, executive director of the authority, said yesterday.

Beers said that L. M. Ramsey, realtor, is presently making the second appraisal of these properties. Upon completion of the appraisal and approval by the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Redevelopment Authority, negotiations on prices will begin.

The authority hopes to start some demolition activities in June, Beers added, "as both the post office and Acme Market are anxious to erect their new structures."

He said that the Acme and post office are now preparing final architectural plans for the buildings.

"The authority has in its files, the listing of over 40 vacancies in the area, and with the assistance of the Public Housing Authority, little difficulty in relocation of current area residents is anticipated," Beers said.

Bus Stop Guttered By Fire

BEAVIDERE, N. J. — Firemen fought heavy smoke and fire yesterday in an attempt to extinguish a blaze at the Post Home, near Belvidere, N. J. The building was a total loss, firemen said.

The fire is believed to have started in the cellar of the frame building with stucco walls at 3:05 p. m. The building is located across from the Rancho Hotel east of the intersection of Rt. 519 coming from Belvidere.

A spokesman for the fire company said the fire worked its way up through the wall and ceiling to the roof.

The heavy smoke and equipment had traffic near a stand still for some time.

Three trucks from the Belvidere Good Will Fire Company responded, and two trucks from the Mountain Lake Fire Company gave assistance.

Firemen remain at the scene of the fire. No injuries have been reported.

FHA Aide Will Speak On Loans In Eastburg

EAST STROUDSBURG — A representative of the Federal Housing Administration will speak to the Monroe County Redevelopment Authority and the East Stroudsburg Citizens' Advisory Committee, the committee was told this week.

Alton J. Jones, property manager and relocation officer of MCRA said that James Lyons of the FHA would speak at 7:30 p. m. on April 14 at the meeting in the redevelopment offices.

His topic would be requirements for FHA loans, handling of the loans, and conditions to be met.

Leon Zacher of the housing committee reported that he and Jones were planning a vacant land survey in connection with relocation programs. The purpose of the survey is to see the amount of vacant land available to keep new housing on an individual location basis rather than development.

Discussion was held as to whether banks and builders would be agreeable to FHA requirements because of red tape and since loans are usually long term.

Zacher suggested builders submit a design for a low cost home to meet FHA requirements.

It was decided that builders, banks, and lending institutions should also hear Lyons' speech.

King Beers, executive director of the redevelopment authority, spoke on current activities. He spoke of a recent meeting with the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Philadelphia, where it was made known that the Acme and post office wanted the S. Courtland St. area cleared by August 1.

Beers said that he had set a tentative hearing date for the S. Courtland St. project as April 28.

Beers told the committee that he has drafted a letter to St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church in regard to removal and relocation of the old cemetery which is located in the project area.

The Lincoln Ave. project was also mentioned. Beers said disposition documents are ready to be given to developers in that area, and that a second public hearing will be held. Commercial property can then be put up for bids.

Carl Sower, supervising principal of the East Stroudsburg Junior High School, said that East Stroudsburg has entered the state town beautification contest, and that it is up to various agencies to gather material to present for final judging.

Water Plant Bids Opening Set April 20

EAST STROUDSBURG — Construction bids on the proposed $687,000 water filtration plant which will be built in Smithfield Township will be opened April 20, at 7 p. m.

The borough council adjourned its regular meeting Tuesday night to that date. The federal government is contributing $343,000 toward the new water facility.

A police department report given at Tuesday's meeting showed $205 was collected in borough fines during March and $55 in state fines. Police also reported nine motor violations and 16 penal violations.

Other reports for March given Council were:

—A control center log which showed 5,614 calls were handled during the month. Broken down the calls included—time checks and car acknowledgements, 4,588; requests to meet with complainants, 94; motor vehicle accidents, 20; fire alarms, 8; requests for general information, 694; and game protector calls, 210.

—Zoning records showed the estimated value reported on zoning permits for new dwellings and alterations in the last half of 1963 were $130,467.

The first quarter of 1964 showed $136,750 in permits have been issued. This is a substantial increase over the previous year.

—Bank balances for the borough's five funds showed these amounts: water, $19,284; sewer, $137,961; general, $22,812; highway, $9; and sinking, $4,444.

—The zoning board of adjustment and zoning officer reports showed five applications for zoning permits were received; five zoning permits were issued; six occupancy permits were issued; 13 occupancy permits are pending; two notices of violations were issued and two pending.

—The board of health reported it handled seven inspections of unsanitary conditions; one case of scarlet fever and one case of infectious hepatitis were reported; four dead animals were removed from the streets, and seven routine complaints and requests were handled.

$20,000-Plus Suit Filed In Monroe

STROUDSBURG — A Barrington, N.J. couple have brought suit in excess of $20,000 total against a Philadelphia truck company for an accident which happened near McIlhenny in 1962.

The couple, Joseph and Dorothy Kramer, are suing Reich Trucking and Transport Co., Inc. of Philadelphia; Hyland L. Hock of Millville, Pa., the driver, and P. L. Lawton Co., Inc. of Berwick.

The suit alleges that at 3:45 p.m. on August 30, 1962, the Kramers were driving west on Rt. 209 near McIlhenny when the truck, coming east, crossed the center line and struck the car.

It alleges that Dorothy Kramer suffered lacerations of the face and head, bruises, contusions of the arms and legs, fracture of the right foot, and a sprain of the spine, plus hospitalization. On this count, the suit asks damages in excess of $10,000.

The suit further alleges that Joseph Kramer suffered lacerations and contusions of the mouth, chin, and head, a severe laceration of the right hand, plus hospitalizations and loss of work. This count asks damages in excess of $10,000. The suit also asks $2,100 for damages to the Kramer car.

Atty. James C. Scanlon represents the Kramers.

Police Chief Gets Commission

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Charles S. Wade, former police chief of Reading testified Tuesday he got $300 from a parking meter contract payoff and also got bawled out for telling a city councilman how much he got.

Wade told U.S. District Court he handed an envelope to John C. Kubacki, then mayor of Reading. Kubacki counted $3,000 in bills and gave him $300 of it, saying it represented a 10 per cent commission for Wade's part in the transaction, the former police chief told the court.

His testimony was given at the trial of Kubacki and Abraham Minkler before Judge Alfred L. Luongo and a jury of 10 women and two men. The former mayor and Minkler, who is now serving a four-year prison sentence for failure to pay gambling excise taxes, are charged with extorting at least $10,500 from companies bidding for Reading's parking meter business.

Details Listed For Session On Relocation Of Bushkill

PHILADELPHIA — The Water Resources Association of the Delaware River Basin (WRA-DRB) yesterday announced the details of the public information meeting dealing with the Tocks Island dam and reservoir project. The session will be held at the firehouse in Bushkill, April 16, starting at 8 p.m.

At the meeting Col. Elmer P. Yates, District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, Philadelphia will explain "The Status and Schedule of the

Livengood West End Kite Champ

EFFORT — Kenney Livengood was awarded first place in Culy Scout Pack 101 Kite Derby.

The derby was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hannou in Effort.

Runners-up in the derby were Kim Deput and Dwight Christman.

Representing Den One were Kim Deput and Kenney Livengood. Den Two was represented by Marty George and Karl Michael. Den Three representatives were Wayne Moyer and Douglas Arnold. Dwight Christman and Ronald Sanders represented the Webelos.

Jeffery Beers was awarded first place for his kite, and Martin George, second place for his kite. These awards were made on the basis of neatness and originality of design.

Judging the event were Mrs. Mary Arnold and Mrs. Bettie Kunkle.

Roger Arnold, assistant cubmaster, was in charge of the program.

To Study In Germany

EAST STROUDSBURG — Dolores Bohlman, a sophomore English major in the Secondary Education curriculum at East Stroudsburg State College, has been chosen to spend her junior year of college study in Germany.

The program, sponsored by Millersville State College, sends interested and qualified students of the German language to study at the Philipps-Universität in Marburg an der Lahn, Germany.

Miss Bohlman, a resident of Pipersville, Pa., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bohlman. She is an active member of the German Club, and is the news editor of the college newspaper.

Students must possess a knowledge of the German language and culture, and a high degree of academic standing. Miss Bohlman is a member of East Stroudsburg State College's Dean's List. She will leave aboard an oceanliner from New York on September, 1964 and return in August, 1965.

The program is under the direction of the resident director, Gunther Bicknese, a native German, who holds a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Marburg. A member of the Department of Foreign Languages at Millersville State College, he has taught extensively in America and Germany. The program has been approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

E. Bangor Household Heads Urged To Vote On Mail

WASHINGTON — Congress — It does not matter to me which side wins in this issue, I want to give the people of East Bangor what they feel they want and need so far as postal services are concerned.

"The outcome of this vote will decide the issue and, for this reason, I wholeheartedly urge the people of East Bangor to take part in the vote and express their opinions of what they feel is best for all the people."

Fund Drive Nets $151

PORTLAND — Twelve volunteers netted a $151.60 on a house to house campaign for contributions for the Portland Heart Fund Drive.

Mrs. John R. Wildrick Jr., chairman of the drive, said the contributions will go to the Lehigh Valley Heart Assn., 213 W. Broad Street, Bethlehem.

Volunteer workers for the drive were Mrs. Carl Beck, Mrs. David Dahlman, Mrs. Harry Hardy, Mrs. Thomas Mangle, Mrs. Donald Pfeiffer, Mrs. Samuel Sigafuss Jr., Mrs. Raymond Traneue, Mrs. Anthony Torio, Mrs. Earl Taylor, Mrs. Lawrence Ward and Miss Gloria Yohe.

Measles Didn't Stop YF Event

NEWFOUNDLAND — A colorful program, "Home Town Blues," planned by the Green-town - Newfoundland-South Stirling Youth Fellowship this week, added red spots for an unusual effect, when the leader of the program, Donald Dickinson, broke out with measles two hours before the scheduled event.

Connie Kelter, of South Stirling (whose sister had just come down with the measles, too) stepped into the leader's position, however, and the program went on as scheduled.

Even the outcome of the program was a surprise. The group had planned to discuss — and try to suggest remedies for — the faults of their home town. And to everyone's amazement, they discovered that it was a pretty good home town after all. Whatever its faults, they decided, they were partly to blame.

When it was suggested that the area lacked recreational facilities for young people and grown-ups, it was pointed out that the Pocono Mountains are the setting for the best recreational facilities in the State. It was discussed that "we have nothing to keep our young people here," yet 90 per cent of those in attendance had come from other areas and did not plan to return to their "native towns and cities", indicating that young people leaving an area is not necessarily the fault of a community, but comes about because of many factors.

The Fellowship discussed spending a day with the Pater-son, New Jersey, YF. The Pater-son group has come to South Stirling on several occasions. They will be a rummage sale on May 2 and 9 at Newfoundland, for the benefit of the YF.

A nominating committee will be appointed by the president, Terry Baughman, at the meeting on April 12, which will be held at the Newfoundland Moravian Church.

Tobyhanna Okays Ordinance Setting Up Planning Group

POCONO LAKE — Tobyhanna Twp. supervisors have approved an ordinance establishing a planning commission and passed the $33,562.02 budget for 1964-65.

The supervisors named Sterling Wagner, Harry S. F. Eberhardt, Claude Bush, Nelson Miller, and Gerald Hanna as the five men to serve on the newly created commission. Sterling Wagner, a tax assessor in the township, said, "I am aware that I cannot legally serve on the commission and be assessor. I have my duties of resignation before me. It is dated April 6 and I will mail it to the commissioners."

The supervisors took the action to form the commission after a Tasty Freeze ice cream stand and a horse stable were built along roads in residential areas.

Under the new ordinance the planning commission will have the power to adopt and maintain a comprehensive plan for the physical development of the township and the surrounding territory.

The plan will include a street and highway plan, a community facilities plan and a public improvement program.

The purpose of the comprehensive plan should be to accomplish a coordinated and harmonious development of the community and its environs in accordance with present and future needs, the ordinance points out.

The commission also has the power to prepare a zoning ordinance for consideration of the supervisors. The supervisors will have the final say on all ordinances presented to them by the commission.

Budget Okayed

In passing the proposed budget the supervisors retained the four-mill real estate tax.

The budget shows receipts estimated for the general fund as $14,567.80, taxes; $1,313.53, cash balance from 1963; $550.76, occupation tax; $1,268.05, tax collection; $54.61, game preserves; $2,300, county aid; $1,000, auto fines; $700, rental of road machinery; $1,047.60, street lights; $25, Tobyhanna Fire Co.; $1,002.64, foreign fire insurance tax, and $500 from work performed for other townships.

The expenditures of the general fund are: administration, $1,625; legal service, $350; tax collection, $541.05; township buildings, $1,880; protection to person and property, $4,102.64; highways, from the general fund only, $11,400.52, and miscellaneous, $4,605.78.

Estimated receipts in the State Liquid Fuels Highway Aid Fund are $7,231.50 from state motor licenses. There is a balance of $1,725.53 from last year.

Expenditures are snow removal, $1,725.53; construction and reconstruction, $3,500, and maintenance and repair of roads and bridges, $3,731.50. Total expenditures are $8,957.03.

DELAWARE WATER GAP—Howard W. Knickman, vice president and treasurer, yesterday announced Water Gap Country Club will open its seventh season on Saturday, April 11.

The annual member-meeting will be held the same day at 3 p. m. in the main lounge. The board of directors, Dr. Paul Maxwell, Herbert B. Crane, Harold B. Crossdale, Edwin F. Oettel, William J. Flynn, Fred J. Swenson, Jr., will review the improvements made to the club over the winter. These include a men's locker room, new grill room and outdoor patio, and new pro-shop.

Sam Klinder, PGA pro, will discuss the changes in the 1964 golf rules, and how they will effect play on the Water Gap course. Swenson, chairman of the golf committee, will preview the 1964 golf schedule.

The entertainment committee has announced the opening dance will be held Saturday, April 25 at 9:30 p. m.

The officers elected for the 1964 season are Dr. Paul R. Maxwell, president; Howard W. Knickman, vice president and treasurer, and Alex L. Bensing, secretary.

Fair Gifts

AMMA, Jordan (AP)—Jordan plans to distribute 200 gifts of olive wood and mother of pearl depicting Jerusalem's sacred Dome of the Rock and the Jordan Pavilion when King Hussein opens his country's exhibit at the New York World's Fair on April 22.

NE Junior Historians Parley Set

EAST STROUDSBURG — Plans were announced yesterday for the annual meeting of the Northeast Region of the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians at East Stroudsburg State College on Saturday.

John Krause, regional president, said the program would include greetings by Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State College; a report on the 1963 Institute of Pennsylvania Life and Culture by Ronald Shepherd, Dingmans Ferry; a report on the 1963 state convention by William Jones, Millford; and greetings by Dr. Alfred D. Sunberg, regional adviser and chairman of the PFJH State Advisory Council.

Mrs. Autumn L. Leonard, Harrisburg, Associate Historian of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission and Executive Secretary - Treasurer of the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians, will be the main speaker.

The afternoon session will include a musical program composed of Civil War songs, papers and skits presented by the individual chapters, a report on the forthcoming State Convention, and the election and installation of new regional officers.

Junior Historian chapters from Monroe, Pike, Northampton, Wayne, Lackawanna, and Luzerne counties will be represented at the convention. The sessions are open to the public.

Krummell Ends Airborne Hitch

CANADENSIS—Pfc. Richard C. Krummell, son of Mrs. Sophie Krummell and the late Julius Krummell, of Canadensis, has recently completed two years with the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

He has been appointed a division repairman, a tour of duty which will last 11 months.

Music Week Event Slated In Eastburg

EAST STROUDSBURG — National Music Week, May 3-10, will be observed by the Music Study Club of the Stroudsburgs at a sacred concert in the Methodist Church, East Stroudsburg, Sunday, May 3 at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. H. B. George and Mrs. James Toner, co-chairman for the concert explained that 80 voices would provide the singing. This will harmonize with National Music Week's theme "Make Music Your Keynote for Living."

The combined choirs of the Lutheran and Methodist Church, under the direction of Robert Currier and Richard Mannheim, will do the singing. The Stroudsburg Community Chorus will also sing.

In addition, a group of women from the Music Study Club ensemble will sing at the concert.

Systemic New Word In Gardening

By George Abraham

SYSTEMIC INSECTICIDE: Systemic is a new word in your gardening vocabulary. A systemic insecticide is one which you do not apply on the plant, but rather in the soil.

You apply it around your plants, and the granules are broken up by rain or soil moisture. The chemical is picked up by water and carried into the plants through the roots.

The plant's own sap system carries the chemical to all parts of the plant. When a sucking insect (such as aphids, spider mites, thrips, white flies and leafhoppers) inserts its stiletto-like mouthparts into any part of the plant, the pest commits suicide.

An application of a systemic insecticide gives protection against sucking pests up to 6 weeks.

Theoretically, a systemic insecticide is a gardener's dream. No dust to drift, no spray to mix, no mess to make, no measuring, no nozzles to clean. One pound of the granules will protect a dozen rose bushes for 6 weeks.

But how does it work out for insects other than the sap-sucking types such as Japanese Beetles, Rose Chafer, to name a couple?

So far, it kills only the harmful sucking insects. If a systemic insecticide could be produced which would kill both sap-sucking and leaf-chewing insects, it would be a boon to gardeners.

SHADE TOLERANT ANNUALS: Quite often home owners want a splash of color for shady spots. While the selection is limited, there are many plants that do well in the shade, if they aren't troubled with competing tree roots.

Here are a few worth growing in semi-shade: Alyssum, Balsam, Nierembergia, Nicotiana, Pansy, Salvia, Lobelia, Forget-me-not and petunia. For denser shade, try both tuberous and fibrous-rooted begonias, torenia, coleus, Impatiens. These can be used with a background of fern dug from the woods.

Tree roots can be real mean and there's not much you can do to keep them back. One trick I've tried for small areas under a tree might interest you. I purchased an old hot water tank (galvanized) from a junk yard. This was cut in two and the ends closed off.

Coleus, Impatiens and petunias were planted in this metal container and placed under the tree where roots were ordinarily a problem. The plants grow lustily in these and you don't have to worry about tree roots competing.

DOGS AND CATS: A reader writes: "To keep male dogs from visiting our trees I put one or two thin sticks by each bush, several inches from the base. These 'Sweet Peas' sticks always attract the dogs from the growing plants and so far it's been the best means for keeping dogs away. Hasn't failed yet!"

SNOW MOLD ON LAWNS: It's too early to tell just how much damage was caused by snow mold disease in lawns. It's been worse in some areas, and in some lawns. The odd part of it is that one lawn can be free of it while another lawn next door can be plastered with it.

Light cases of snow mold can be ignored as new growth usually comes up from below to take over. One way to help nature is to feed the area to give the surviving roots a quick boost. Any good plant food high in nitrogen will help. As for chemicals, mercury compounds will bring about quick relief, and an antibiotic is high effective.

If you find that no relief follows a week or so after treatment, then you should take steps to reseed the "scalded" areas. To do this you take a bamboo rake, remove the dead grass, then take an iron-tooth rake, loosen the top inch of soil, scatter on some plant food and grass seed.

B. H. of Long Pond: "We planted melons, cucumber and squash seed in the garden last year and had poor germination. Upon inspection it was found that the seeds were being eaten by maggot-like worms. What should be done this year?"

After you sow the seed, dust the area with Sevin or methoxychlor, before covering with soil. Or, you can use chlordane. These will kill the root maggots before they have a chance to feed on the seed.

Don't worry about the young plants absorbing the chemicals and contaminating the fruit. It won't.

Run over the seeded area with a roller and you'll find that germination takes place much quicker.

MAPLE TREES: Home owners who plant maples may find that the bark on the southwest side has split from the trunk. This is "southwest" injury and is a result of unequal temperatures during winter. It's nothing serious. Take a sharp knife and trim off any loose bark back to live tissue.

I'll soon heal again. If your maple is growing taller than you want it to, the top can be cut back any time now. Don't worry about it "bleeding" sap. When a maple bleeds it's not the same as human bleeding, as many think. You often see an ornamental tree bleeding where a limb has broken. This is nothing to worry about.

PLANTING TREES AND SHRUBS: One common mistake some gardeners make is to plant a tree and then fill soil up around the base. You should do just the opposite — make a depression so it will catch rain and hose water. A mound will shed water and may mean the difference between life and death by depriving the plant of water.

Also, if you're planting a balled evergreen or potted shrub, make sure there's no air space between it and the earth. Take a shovel and gently tamp soil around the ball of soil to eliminate air pockets.

DO NOT disturb the burlap covering on the ball. The burlap soon rots and will not retard root development. Next week: Planting trees and shrubs growing in containers.

Heart disease can be a cause of cough, especially among the older age groups. A rough call for analysis, for effective treatment depends on a correct diagnosis.

PV Gym Program Friday

BRODHEADSVILLE — Pleasant Valley Elementary grades will present a gym exhibition Friday at 8 p. m. in the gymnasium of the high school in Brodheadsville.

Participating in the program will be pupils from the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Grades.

Mail Strike

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Sydney's 2,700 mail sorters ended a strike and tackled an accumulation of 14 million letters and packages. They were out a week in protest against increased night work schedules.

Space Writing

MOSCOW (AP) — Studies of handwriting of the six Soviet space people in orbit, reports scientist Pavel Vasilyev, show capacity for work and speed of reactions are normal. But, Tass, the Soviet news agency, quoted him as saying cosmic handwriting in their log books is over-size because the weightless hand moves more boldly.

The program will open with a march and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, then all the children will do an exercise to records.

Boys from the Fourth Grade will do rope jumping exercises. The Fourth Grade girls will do the dance of the seven jumps.

Girls of the Sixth Grade will do a Dutch dance. Fifth Grade boys will do a flag drill and the girls in that grade will do the seven step dance.

Boys and girls from the three grades will work on the mats, trampoline, parallel bars and side horse.

Girls from the Sixth Grade will present a Norwegian Mountain March dance and the boys from that grade will do a flashlight drill. The Sixth Grade girls will also play a game of hockey.

As a special event Lex Mills and Wayne Arnold will present a clown act. Other special events will be a square dance, mixed dance and a novelty dance.

Smoke Sales

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Warsaw evening Kurier Polski reports sales of cigarettes in the first three months this year dropped five per cent under those of the last quarter of 1963 in the wake of warnings that smoking damages health.

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK—F. F. of Tafton: "Why is it we can't grow a rubber plant? Years ago it was the easiest of all house plants. Now, they seem to get brown spots along the leaves and make poor growth."

Rubber plants (Ficus) are a tough, durable plant but they do develop a spotted condition which resembles scorching.

Anthraxnose is a disease which causes a tip-burn, the ends of the foliage turning at first a yellowish color, then tan, and finally dark-brown, resembling a piece of leather.

It resembles a type of scorching you get in apartment houses, where hot, dry air and poor ventilation causes leaves to fall.

Slight wounds in leaves, or drops of water for considerable periods will favor infection.

What to do: Avoid syringing the foliage, since the droplets of water may bring on infection. If you want to clean the leaves, use a damp cloth. Pick off and destroy infected leaves. Also, avoid overwatering or poor drainage.

Sometimes this will cause the leaves to turn yellow and drop. L. R. of Bushkill: "Last year our Asters were doing beautifully. Suddenly one by one, the plants took on a yellowish-green color. I was told that if we had treated our seed (for if we seedsman had) the plants would have been healthy."

Please tell us how to treat the seed so we won't have this problem again."

Your trouble was Aster yellow.

lows, a virus disease which causes a sickly yellowish-green color, shortened growth and the flowers fail to open.

It is not true that treated seed will prevent the problem. The virus is not seed-borne, and does not live from year to year in the soil. The yellow virus overwinters on weeds (such as sow-thistle) and cultivated plants such as daisy and Chrysanthemums.

It is transmitted from plant to plant by the aster leaf hopper, and nearly 300 species of plants are susceptible to the virus.

Control: Spray the plants with malathion or methoxychlor immediately after you set them out. If you have the time and inclination, use screen houses to keep out the insect. Use screens with at least 18 wires to the inch, or cloth with 22 threads per inch. Destroy all plants affected with yellows as soon as you see them.

B. H. of Long Pond: "We planted melons, cucumber and squash seed in the garden last year and had poor germination. Upon inspection it was found that the seeds were being eaten by maggot-like worms. What should be done this year?"

After you sow the seed, dust the area with Sevin or methoxychlor, before covering with soil. Or, you can use chlordane. These will kill the root maggots before they have a chance to feed on the seed.

Don't worry about the young plants absorbing the chemicals and contaminating the fruit. It won't.

Bangor Councilman Seeks New Industry For Area

By Jim Shafer
Daily Record Reporter

BANGOR — "What has been done by councils before I was elected to the post is done. I can't truthfully say what I would have done because I don't know all the facts," Peter DeVito, councilman from Bangor's fourth ward, said yesterday.

"I can only speak of the future, where council is concerned, and of the things I would like to see be accomplished. First I would like to see industry come into the area.

"Not just one plant but several, and all of them paying a wage that would permit a man's wife to stay home and let him be the bread winner in the family.

"I feel this (bringing in the new industry) can be accomplished with an industrial planning commission, and it working in conjunction with the area chamber of commerce.

"Secondly, I would like to see a vocational school come into the area. It would indeed be a blessing for the State Belt Area. I say this on this basis. The number of children graduating from our high school and going on to college is small.

"This leaves the major portion of the graduating class to seek occupations in the trades. With a vocational school a large portion of this group could attend, thus enabling them to do something besides entering the world as unskilled laborers.

Vocational School

"A vocational school in the area would be a drawing card for industry and it would provide these industries with a ready labor market. These are two important items considered by any business when it is looking for a new site to expand its operation.

"Please don't understand, I believe our present schools offer a wonderful education, but there is room for the vocational end of the training to be expanded.

"Third, I feel we should have

Polk Adopts $37,385.12 Budget

KRESGEVILLE—Polk Twp. supervisors adopted a budget of $37,385.12 for the 1964-65 year at a recent meeting.

The figure includes $13,555.13 in the general fund and $23,829.99 in the State Liquid Fuels Highway Aid Fund.

In passing the budget the supervisors have maintained the five-mill real estate tax and a $5 per capita tax.

Estimated receipts in the general fund are $8,660.13 from taxes on township real estate valued at $1,925,825; $3,260, per capita tax; $821, taxes from previous years; $805, per capita taxes from previous years; $6,696, county aid; $1,200, liquor licenses and beverage taxes; $200, auto fines, and $205.52, foreign fire insurance tax. There is also a balance of $2,647.86 from last year.

Estimated receipts from the State Motor License Fund Grants are $15,433.35. This, with the balance of $8,786.64, makes a total of $23,829.99 for the state liquid fuels highway aid fund.

The estimated expenditures in the general fund are as follows: Administration, $1,563. This breaks down to $288, supervisors; $700, secretary - treasurer; $150, auditors; $100, advertising and printing; $10, telephone and postage; $50, premium on official's bonds; $65, association dues, and $200, solicitor's fee.

Tax collection, $290. This shows $200 in commission to the tax collector, $40 to pay his bond premium, and $50 for printing.

Fire protection, $405.52. Of this $200 goes as a donation to the fire company in the township, and $205.52 to the firemen's relief fund.

Highways — township funds only — $15,000. A breakdown of this figure shows $1,500, snow removal; $1,000, repairs of tools and machinery; $7,000, construction and reconstruction of roads; $500, storm sewers; $4,000, maintenance and repair of roads and bridges, and $1,000, widening of roads.

Miscellaneous, $400. This represents $350 for insurance and $50 for supervisors annual convention.

Expenditures in the highway aid fund are:

Snow removal, $3,000; repair to tools and machinery, $600; construction and reconstruction of roads, $12,000; purchase of new tools and machinery, $200, and maintenance and repairs of roads and bridges, $8,029.99.

Hunters Hired To Kill Wolves

ROME (AP)—Villagers in the countryside north of Rome appealed for professional hunters to help them fight packs of wolves devouring sheep and calves.

The wolves came out of the mountains into the Tiber Valley along the Via Flaminia about 25 miles above Rome apparently because heavy winter rains deprived them of ready prey.

something better for the youth of the community. I would like to see something affiliated with the YMCA or YWCA or some organization like that to come into the area, either in full or establish a branch here.

"If this were to materialize, the youth would have good supervision, not that the present is not good. The youth would have planned activities and there is a possibility of a swimming pool to teach water safety. These are just some of the things a better youth program could offer."

"And last, but not least, a good strong program in council to give a bigger and better Bangor, civic improvements, and street improvements. Council does have these in mind and is working towards them. I believe that with teamwork all of these will be accomplished by council."

ESSC Aides Headed For Conference

FAST STROUDSBURG—Nine East Stroudsburg State College professors will participate in a curriculum conference being held at Kutztown State College Friday afternoon, April 10.

Sponsored by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction in cooperation with the Kutztown and East Stroudsburg State Colleges, the conference will explore curriculum developments in Pennsylvania. It is the fourth annual conference dedicated to the theme of curriculum development.

Actively participating as discussion group members are professors Howard Atwell, Dr. James Reed, David Anderson, Dr. Richard Luce, Mary Banzhof, Joseph Kernaghan, Rose McKee, Dr. Ruth Kistler and Dr. Eugene Powers of the East Stroudsburg State College staff. Dr. Charles Boehn and members of the Department of Public Instruction will also be active in the curriculum conference. The closing address "Why Follow the Calf Path" will be made at 8 p.m. by Dr. Joseph F. Melster of the Department of Public Instruction.

Professor David Anderson, curriculum coordinator for East Stroudsburg State College stated that the conferences have had success in the previous three years and it is expected that Friday's conference will also have an impact on future curriculum developments in the state.

Gas Blamed For Explosion

CENTRAL CITY, (AP) — Authorities have blamed gas for an explosion and fire that wrecked a telephone exchange building and damaged nearby buildings. No one was hurt in the blast.

The building, which housed dial control equipment of the General Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania, was unattended, as is normal. The company estimated damage to its own property at more than $125,000. Service to some 1,100 customers was disrupted.

The powerful blast shattered windows of business places, homes and a school within a three-block radius.

Company's Comin'...

Help Stretch Out Pennsylvania's Welcome Mat!

On April 22, the World's Fair will open. It's estimated that 40 million persons will visit the Fair this year, and for about two-thirds of America, the shortest, surest, most sensible and scenic route to the Fair is thru Pennsylvania!

Company's comin' to our State! How do we welcome them? How do we get them to stay awhile? That's up to you!

Issue personal, written invitations to friends and relatives from other states. Millions of Americans have never seen Pennsylvania... the state where their nation began! And the World's Fair provides a perfect excuse for the trip. Remind them of this! And tell them about the recreational and scenic advantages of your community.

Then, when visitors arrive, welcome them warmly... person-to-person! The gas station attendant who points out a good place to eat... the hotel clerk who gives that little extra service... the policeman on the corner who offers clear, courteous directions... the waitress who serves a smile with that extra pat of butter... these are the people who say "Glad you came... stay awhile!"

Governor Scranton has proclaimed March "Tourist Preparation Month"... so let's prepare. Work with your local Tourist Promotion Agency... learn more about your state and its attractions... and be ready with a handshake and a smile when Pennsylvania's guests (your guests) arrive!

Chestnuthill To Blacktop Two Roads

BRODHEADSVILLE — Chestnuthill Twp. supervisors reindented a motion made by the board of supervisors in 1963 and made a new motion to work on roads in the township at the Monday night meeting in Chestnuthill Twp. Elementary School in Brodheadsville.

The 1963 motion was to blacktop a road from Ralph Brong to M. M. Mervine's. The new motion will allow the blacktopping of two roads in the township.

They are: 1. a dirt road connecting Rt. 209, near Miller's greenhouse, and L. R. 43085, at Mikel's Farm. This road passes the home of August Beckman and is a route traveled by a mail man and a school bus. 2. a dirt road from the club house at McMichael's north to Pearl Kresge's Bridge.

The supervisors also are considering work on Rt. 432, from McMichael's past the home of Floyd Altomero, a distance of about nine tenths of a mile. It will be blacktopped. On this route there are two bridges needing new topping. The present topping is more than 25 years old.

The second route under consideration is Rt. 430, from Rodenbaugh's Garage in Brodheadsville to the Albert Frantz home. This is about five tenths of a mile.

In other business the supervisors purchased a new truck from Rodenbaugh's in Brodheadsville. The cost of the truck is $3,798.02.

They also increased the liability insurance in the township from $100,000 to $300,000.

Pen Argyl Tax Aide Appointed

PEN ARGYL — Pen Argyl Borough Council named Mrs. Margaret Warford delinquent tax collector in the borough. She is tax collector.

The action was taken at the council meeting Monday night in the township.

Mrs. Warford told the meeting that delinquent taxes are $1,936.60 for real estate, and $1,650 in per capita taxes. William Savercool, fire chief, reported that the department answered one call last month. It was a gas explosion on Lobb Ave.

In other business council approved adoption of daylight saving time from April 26 to Oct. 25.

Council discussed a traffic condition on A Street and then placed it in the hands of the police department to make the necessary rules to correct the situation.

Woodrow Wilson, sewer committee chairman, told the meeting that seven new connections of the sewer were made last month. This brings the total properties connected to the sewer to 1,162.

Council then voted to meet with the sewer authority, at a special meeting Tuesday, April 14, at 8 p.m. in the township, to sign necessary papers to re-finance the sewer system.

The secretary was told to notify property owners on Applegate Ave. from Robinson Ave. to Abloh Ave. to put in curbs so that the street can be completed this summer.

Council also told the secretary to send a letter to the district director, Department of Highways requesting them to resurface Robinson Ave. from Pennsylvania Ave. to Main Street.

In other action council authorized a new street light on the south end of Main Street.

Authorized the purchase of a new truck from Blue Valley Truck Sales and Service at a cost of $550.

Approved J. Harry Smith's request to attend an FBI School at Hershey May 3 and 4. Smith is the chief of police.

Approved Mayor Christy Snyder's request to attend a meeting of borough association in Harrisburg in June.

Decided to put liens against property of persons failing to pay sewer rentals.

Decided leaves are combustible garbage and therefore must be collected by the garbage contractor with regular collections, Monday and Thursday.

Approved the treasurer's report showing balances of $31,473.29, general fund; $11,270.34, sewer revenue account; $12,709.53, sewer interest account; and $25,000, government securities.

Fanatics' Kids Off To Hospital

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—Police raided the settlement of a fanatical African sect and rushed 20 children suffering from smallpox to the hospital because the parents do not believe in doctors.

The raid followed refusal of the sect, known as the Korsten Basketmakers, to let doctors examine their children. Police cordoned off the settlement at Kitwe and vaccinations were started for children not afflicted with the disease.

No Reshuffling Planned In Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said this week that no great reshuffling of diplomatic assignments is under contemplation.

Brazilian Visit

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German President Heinrich Lübke will visit Brazil for a week beginning May 7, his office announced. Lübke plans to visit Peru, Chile and Argentina before going to Brazil.

Mexico Takes Over Industry

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Labor officials say they will demand nationalization of Mexican pharmaceutical industry, now almost all foreign owned. Under nationalization, Mexico would buy the 437 firms involved. Mexicanization means 51 per cent of a company must be Mexican-owned and operated.

AFTER 35 REAL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
If you're over 35 and you feel grouchy, out-of-sorts — your trouble may be due to constipation caused by a slowed-down system. The laxative you're used to may no longer be best for you. Try SERUTAN, the all-vegetable laxative aid especially made for folks over 35. SERUTAN provides the peristaltic stimulation to wake up your slowed-down system. This is entirely different from pills, salts or oils. SERUTAN acts like the naturally laxative hydrogel in fruits and vegetables to bring real relief from constipation. So, after 35, take SERUTAN daily to help stimulate your slowed-down system to more normal regularity. Remember, when you read SERUTAN backwards, it spells nature's.

Waring's Pennsylvanians Winding Up 6-Month Tour

SHAWNEE — Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians open tonight a two-week engagement at the famous Nugget Theatre restaurant and casino in Reno, Nevada. Waring's show entitled, "The Magic of Music," will be presented twice nightly and three times on the week-end at the Nevada night club.

Waring and the Pennsylvanians will be completing a 6-month tour which covered 48 states, 30,000 miles by charter bus and plane, with performances primarily one night stands in more than 100 cities.

According to audience reply and newspaper reviews, Waring will always have a "colorful understanding of what America wants." Fred creates his own wonderful world of music, a successful formula of the past, which is aimed toward the future: Music with which he has been closely associated through the years, a glee club with attractive soloists spanning the vocal ranges, an ensemble of musicians who learn, regardless of their age, the inimitable maestro's perennial style of beautiful blending tone.

A Waring production is especially well dressed, with several lovely costumes changes by the girls, the majority being beauty queens of some nature, loaded with talent. And, a number of different jacket colors on the men, which is all enhanced by the lighting magic. With his "Magic of Music," Waring conjures up a melodic production of changing moods and wonderful sounds. There are love songs, folk music, dance music, unforgettables, and sacred music, in which each auditorium or room that the Pennsylvanians visit, becomes a cathedral, a synagogue, a church.

Waring is owner of Shawnee Inn and Country Club, famous resort along the Delaware River.

Hot Volcano Quiets Down

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Mt. Etna quieted down after dark this week following a violent eruption that shot molten rock skyward and showered distant towns with hot sand.

Europe's tallest and most active volcano posed no threat to Sicilians living along its slopes despite the ferocity of its latest explosion. There was no lava flow.

It is not always wise to dose oneself with medicines to reduce a fever.

New Scouts Join Nfld Area Troop

NEWFOUNDLAND — Two new scouts joined Troop 129, BSA, and were welcomed during the meeting at the school at which Richard McLain had charge. They were Brad Logan and John David Strupewski.

The boys took a first aid test prepared by Mr. McLain, in preparation for a first aid meet which the boys will attend later this month.

The meeting day for the troop has been changed from Tuesday to Wednesday, and the time has been moved up half an hour, to 7 p.m.

SERVING THE POCONO MOUNTAINS AREA FOR OVER 107 YEARS

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

When my vaccination started to itch, the first reaction was "Oh, not again!" since I was sure that after the terrific "fate" of four years ago I was still safe. I was, and the itching soon stopped.

But apparently there's no effective vaccination which renders you immune to the itch to travel. This time I'm off for Yugoslavia next Monday night at 7.

"Not again!" might be your first reaction, too, after having suffered through all my dithering about whether or not to go to Italy. But your second reaction will undoubtedly be "Yugoslavia? Why Yugoslavia?"

It does take a bit of explanation, and the mountain climbers' explanation about why they climb "because it's there, and I've never seen it" is hardly adequate, but it is truer than it seems.

While Yugoslavia is not considered a Russian satellite, nor even really behind the Iron Curtain, it is a Communist country and as near as I'll ever come to knowing how they look, what they wear, what it's like inside their houses, how they shop, and what they say to each other.

That last is the most important factor. It's possible to go to Russia, but without learning Russian I'd never know anyone that the guides wanted me to know. I'll never learn Russian, and certainly not Serbo-Croatian, or the Cyrillic alphabet in which so much of it is written, but I'm counting heavily on Robin, my 13 year old niece, who does.

Having spent my "funeral money" on Italy, I could claim that I'm going to Yugoslavia on "perpetual care" but the truth is that I've saved up vacation trips for three years and the actual cost is less than a cruise to Nassau or ten days in California.

So you are my second big reason. You can tell me about Nassau and California, but who else can find out for you if there is an equivalent to The Beatles among Serbian teenagers? Well, Ruth Brown, for one, because she's going with me.

Surprise for the youngsters: out on small colored gumdrops (not the licorice-flavored ones) and add to muffled batter along with raisins and nuts, if you like, or use alone.

Candidates Out In Force At GOP Women's Council

Stroudsburg — Leo W. (Mac) McCormick, of Pike Co., candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Congressman from the 15th District, a seat now held by Rep. Fred B. Rooney, D., made his first appearance in Monroe County yesterday when he spoke at the candidates tea of the Monroe Council of Republican Women at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

"Having spent all of my adult life in Washington in close touch with political circles, I am afraid of this current 'peace talk,' McCormick said, recalling Roosevelt's statements before the United States entered World War II and the Kennedy administration's back-down on demands for on-the-spot inspection in Cuba.

"Now Fulbright comes along and suggests we can make a 'business' arrangement with Castro and with China," he said. "The Republicans have never recognized 'Communism' and I think it's vital that we get Republicans back in office as soon as we can."

"That is why I am running for Congressman — and I think I can make it," McCormick said. McCormick, a manufacturer's representative, has made his summer home in Pike County for 30 years and has been a permanent resident for seven years, living across the Pike Co. line in South Sterling.

He was confidential secretary to the late William S. Vare, Congressman and Senator, of Philadelphia, was advisor to the late Sen. James Davis. He served on the Republican National Committee, and managed the Pennsylvania Presidential camaign for the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur. McCormick left last night for Washington to attend MacArthur's funeral.

That "Tricky" Week Russell Eshbach, State Representative from Pike County, running unopposed for reelection, gave the background of what he termed "one of the most tricky weeks we have had in Harrisburg" when the Democrats walked out of the House rather than vote on the Unemployment Compensation Act.

He blamed the Leader and Lawrence Administrations for bankrupting the fund, and forcing revision.

"When the Democrats realized they could talk for a week and we still would have the votes to pass the bill, they walked out," he said, terming it a "disgraceful exhibition."

He stated his own reason for running for reelection: "I believe in the platform of the Republican party and a strong financial policy."

"I don't believe the 'liberals' I've never seen a liberal who wasn't a phony, Mussolini, Hitler, Krushchev and Castro, all were 'liberals' until they got the power and then they turned into the worst kind of conservatives. "I do not believe that bureaucrats who have never made a dollar in private life, know more about how you should spend your time and your money, and how you should run your business than you do," Eshbach concluded.

Ferrebee and Davis Both Republican candidates for the state House of Representatives, John Ferrebee of East Stroudsburg and John Davis of Mount Pocono, spoke.

Parke Unangst stated the reasons for his candidacy: "I have been involved in politics for 30 years. I know the situations, and I think I can help as State Committeeman."

He listed his offices, first as committeeman and then as councilman in Stroudsburg first ward, the first Republican school director in Middle Smithfield, a position to which he was re-elected; and Republican County Chairman.

And Then Tea The candidates were introduced by Mrs. John Gebbie, president.

At the business meeting, the council planned a white elephant sale for Saturday days and approved changes in their by-laws. Mrs. Mary Garcia announced three new members: Mrs. Robert L. Weichel, Mrs. Harvey T. Pullen and Mrs. Jack Mullins.

Mrs. Gebbie was chairman of the tea committee which included Mrs. Otto Paulson, Mrs. Clarence Rott, Mrs. Francis Broadhead, Mrs. Raymond Rupert, Mrs. R. D. Everett, Mrs. Floyd Bachman, Mrs. Harford Cleveland, and Miss Alice Yetter.

Preview Of Health Careers Given Students At Hospital

East Stroudsburg — The General Hospital of Monroe County opened its doors for tours to member of the Future Nurse Clubs of the county on Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. when the many phases of careers in the field of health were demonstrated.

There are four Future Nurse Clubs in the county with a total membership of 116 including several young men. Sponsored by the Woman's Aux. to the Monroe County Medical Society, the clubs are rapidly becoming Health Careers Recruitment Clubs.

Miss Ada Banks, superintendent of nurses at the hospital, described the urgent need for nurses which the opening of the new wing will increase and also described other fields of service in health.

Frank Butler, head of the catering service at the hospital, described the need of dietitians and explained the handling of special diets.

Other phases of hospital procedure including operating room, maternity, laboratory, X-ray and dispensary were explained by the respective doctors.

Mrs. John Martucci, president of the Medical Aux., assured the students of the cooperation of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Evan Reese, Mrs. John Runney, Mrs. Horace Butler and Mrs. R. Frederick Jones assisted in the group tours. Mrs. E. O. Hendrick and Mrs. Elmo Lilli were in charge of hospitality and Mrs. Mariucci and Mrs. James Fahl of registration.

Mrs. Thomas I. Metzgar, health recruitment chairman, was in charge of arrangements and thanked Harry Smith, superintendent of the hospital, and others of the staff who had assisted in the open house. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Juniors At Their Perkiest For Mothers And Seniors

Stroudsburg — When the members of the Junior Woman's Club entertain their mothers and members of the Senior Woman's Club, they wear their most impressive spring hats and plan their most impressive program.

Both were in evidence at the capacity-crowded meeting held on Tuesday night moved to the YMCA for the occasion. Broadway star Jack Irwin, accompanied by William Barth of Fernwood, presented a program of humor, drama and vocal solos. His music included popular, folk and sacred music.

The program was introduced by Mrs. Robert Hoffman. Mrs. Paul Edinger Jr. presided at the meeting, introducing special guests, Mrs. Robert Payne, president of the Monroe County Federation; Mrs. E. H. Strickland, president of the Woman's Club of Stroudsburg; Mrs. William Morgan, president of the Stroud Community Woman's Club; and Mrs. Roger Dunning, senior advisor to the Juniors.

The reports of the nominating committee, the ways and means committee, and welfare committees were presented, all of which will be voted upon at the May meeting.

Mrs. Stanley Grace reported for the nominating committee: Mrs. Robert Hoffman, president; Mrs. Karl Weiler, first vice president; Mrs. Stanley Wilsh; second vice president; Mrs. Karl Adelmann, recording secretary; Mrs. John Quaresimo, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joseph Liskley, treasurer.

Mrs. Hoffman presented the ways and means suggested to raise money next year: project teams; a Bid and Buy auction; or Follies.

Mrs. Quaresimo, welfare chairman read letters asking for club support from the Salvation Army, the Pocono Art Center, Jay Cee's Burnley Workshop for the Handicapped Fund; and Foster Parents Assn.

Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Weiler will represent the club at the Pennsylvania Federation Convention in Harrisburg, May 20 and 22.

Two letters were read by Mrs. Ronald Saxton from the club's foster child Danny Farines, in the Philippines, and from the American Cancer Society urging regular check-ups.

Mrs. Robert Payne reminded members of the county federation meeting to be held at Hedy's on April 23, featuring a Japanese folk singer.

Main business of the meeting were final announcements about the bazaar to be held April 11 at the East Stroudsburg Armory, given by Mrs. Karl Weiler. Booths will be set up and decorated on Friday night. Members will wear white blouse and dark skirt during their work periods unless they are in costume.

Mrs. John Pentz, entertainment chairman, reported that organ music with different players at the console will be heard during the day. Booth chairman Mrs. Howard Coslett detailed needs for the home-baked goods booth; and Mrs. Richard Hammond displayed the Tammy Doll and wardrobe.

Mrs. G. Garrison Shafer, fine arts chairman, reported on the club's entry in the Table of the Month Contest; home life chairman, Mrs. Andrew Secor reported on the sewing contest in Stroud where Mrs. David Lightner represented the club.

Refreshments of fruit punch and sandwiches were served by Mrs. James Staples, chairman; co-chairman, Mrs. Robert Zellner and Mrs. Earl Warner, and new members of the club: Mrs. Thomas Luzzi, Mrs. John Storm, Mrs. Elmo Lilli, Mrs. Howard Hartman, Mrs. Francis Donatelli, Mrs. Les Woodling, and Mrs. Barry Tretheway. Mrs. E. H. Strickland poured.

Smiths Enroute From Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — Pfc. Clark D. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones of Cresco, will soon be home on leave. He and his wife, the former Marjorie Storm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Storm of Mt. Pocono, plan to drive the Alcan Highway and travel cross-country on their trip back to the Poconos from Fairbanks, Alaska, in June.

The Smiths have made their home at 654 22nd Avenue, Fairbanks, Alaska, since Pfc. Smith was assigned to the 1st Battalion, 47th Infantry, 171st Brigade (MD) in December 1962.

Pfc. Smith entered the Army in July 1962 and completed basic training and AIT at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Upon completion of his duty assignment there he was transferred to Alaska for an 18-month tour.

After returning to the Poconos in June and spending some time with their families and friends, the couple will be off to another post for Pfc. Smith's final year in the service.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

Pictured in the Polaroid shot below, made by Walter Wyckoff at Saturday afternoon's award program in our Keystone Room, are eight of the nine artists who designed winning posters depicting "The Hazards of Smoking." One winner, Bonnie Lou Christian was absent. Bonnie Lou is a student at the Seventh Day Adventist School and Saturday is observed as the Sabbath by her faith.

Dr. Paul Shiffer was on hand to congratulate the youngsters, and Dr. Evan Reese substituted for Dr. Claus Jordan in presenting the checks. Later, Dr. E. O. Hendrick, president of the Monroe County Medical Society, Mrs. Hendrick, and Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of our county Tuberculosis and Health Society joined the winners and their parents in our Wyckoff Tea Room for refreshments.

I am not sure in which order the young people are standing, but in the picture are Robert James Meyer, Linda Muraro, Kenneth Murphy, Debbie Wiess, Maria Zehender (previously we had spelled her last name "Schender," having copied it incorrectly from her poster) Matthew La Penna, Kathy Grogan and Deborah Stamm. Their posters will remain in our Keystone Room (at least we hope so—if the tape holds!) until Saturday. Do see them!

'ROUND AND ABOUT WYCKOFF'S—

Bill Wells, Marjorie Ace, Naomi Fetherman and all others associated with our Boys' and Students' Department were delighted by the terrific reaction to last week's Whizzer Special (sheets at 3.00 a pair). No whizzer thus far has had such an enthusiastic reception. This one shattered every goal our merchandising men had set. Our customers are really becoming "whizzer" conscious! ... Everyone comes to Wyckoff's, sooner or later. Dining with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Wyckoff in our Tea Room on Mrs. Greitz, minister of First United Church of Christ, Easton, who is democratic candidate for United States Congressman from the 15th Congressional District. Mrs. Wyckoff was surprised with a beautiful big birthday cake baked by Blanche Mackey, manager of our very fine dining room. ... One of the most attractive displays in our Wyckoff store is the dinner table in our Housewares and China department, set with blue Tulip Time earthenware by Johnson Bros. This neat, clean pattern shows scenes of Holland, and is charming. Mary Hitesman accentuates the rich blue coloring with a centerpiece of our artificial blue hydrangeas. Inexpensive but lovely! ... The members of the Monroe County Garden Club's committee for our Table of the Month exhibit are really on the ball. Already, they have selected the china and flowers they require from our International Gift Center and set them aside. I'm really excited about this late-April-into-May event. It will be outstanding. I'm sure ... Speaking of pretty things—do be sure to see our very complete display of Helma Rubinstein's new Pink Tulip line. Compacts, fashion-sticks, and perfume bottles are as delightful to the eye as even the most fastidious woman could desire. And the fragrances are tempting. I am not sure which of the lipstick shades I prefer—some harder on sunny morals; some are youthfully rosy. I am divided between Italian Pink and World's Finest Pink. Why don't I try them both ... together maybe? Why don't YOU?

Collages And Graphic Arts Explored For Young Artists

East Stroudsburg — An art experience on a limited budget was one of the advantages of using common materials in college designs and graphic printing for children of the elementary school. This was pointed out by Dr. Madelon Powers and Miss Irene Mitchell of the college faculty at an in-service training program held yesterday at the J. M. Hill School.

Their pupils were the teachers of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Elementary Schools. In addition to demonstrations of graphic printing and collage making, they explored the possibilities of correlating art and music as an inspiration for three-dimensional work.

Emphasizing that the work should be approached with spontaneity, freedom and boldness, the teachers listed the purpose of the workshop: to become familiar with another printing process; to allow the child an opportunity to select materials and manipulate them in an inventive manner; and to become more sensitive to materials, textures and colors.

Masters Chefs

LOS ANGELES—At the time of the Masters Tournament last year in Augusta, Ga., your correspondent got into terrible trouble. You talk about bum rap. The whole commotion stemmed from nothing more than a few harmless observations on Southern cooking, which, it was pointed out, isn't what it used to be.

At its peak, it wasn't much, which happens to be the way the corn pone crumbles. But this bit of flummery was not to be dismissed readily. By contrast, in fact, the sin of Jack Ruby was a piffle.

It is an old precept among professional golfers who discuss the Masters that if the Augusta National course doesn't kill you, Southern cooking will.

This is not to be construed as a knock, because everyone must die sooner or later.

Nor would one figure to take exception to an anecdote we recounted about a Southern barbecue in North Carolina.

The chef was afflicted spitefully in fresh linen and the hat was tall and white. He gave each of us a barge-shaped bowl. Then from a deep container he pulled out a handful of shredded smoked beef and stuffed it into half the barge.

From another container he drew out a handful of finely-chopped Southern slaw. This went into the other half of the barge. He smoothed off the order by running his finger neatly across the top.

From a third container, he pulled out two nice little hush puppies and placed them atop the heap.

The reaction to our experience was instantaneous. Nobody challenged the finger work on the part of the chef, but scurrilous letters appeared in an Augusta paper, branding as a vicious lie our report that hush puppies were served with barbecue.

Which, of course, is carrying segregation too far.

One beaver made it clear that in most respectable homes down South, hush puppies go with fish.

A federation of amateur lady cooks in Georgia then issued what was tantamount to a death threat. It invited me there to partake of real Southern cooking.

Obviously, a breach has occurred between North Carolina and the rest of the South, because the evidence was irrefutable—I was served hush puppies with barbecue. And, certainly, I would know a hush puppy if you hit me over the head with one, heaven forbid.

The upshot of this flap has been a measure of caution on the part of those going to this year's Masters, which begins on Thursday.

Many will be taking a new look at Southern cooking, inquiring warily of natives if this restaurant or that one is safe.

The tournament itself is more interesting than usual this time inasmuch as no one has stepped forth to date and conceded it to Arnold Palmer.

A dreadful thing has happened to Mr. Palmer. Thirteen events have been played on the PGA circuit this year and he has yet to win. It couldn't be more shocking if Bo Haskins were to disclose that he has been suddenly since New Year's Eve. Actually, no golfer has scored more than once on the tour this year, and the announcement comes from the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas that its field already has swelled to 29, the largest in its history.

The fawning multitudes comprising Arnie's Army have appeared tearfully to their hero to break out of his slump. Human sacrifices have been offered. Aborigines have been prevailed upon for voodoo dances and rabbits by the thousands have been separated from their feet.

The next step is to be a casual reminder that the pants, shoes, shirts, socks, belts, golf clubs and golf balls bearing the Palmer name are gathering dust on the shelves and not moving.

Arnold is involved in so many enterprises that a prolonged fizzle on his part could stagger the national economy. It was only due to his record-breaking tour in 1963 that personal income and corporate taxes dropped in this country.

Perhaps more than any other tournament, the Masters appeals to the golf purist who knows that he will be watching an event under conditions as technically perfect as man can make them.

Stringent rules are even laid down for the gallery which, on command, is made to sit, heel and stay like any field dog worthy of his horse meat.

If it will help chill the beef, we will state unwaveringly that, given a choice, we will take Southern cooking any day to the sustenance given field dogs.

ESSC To Stage Annual Red-Black Game Saturday

By KEN O'BRIEN

Daily Record Sports Editor

EAST STROUDSBURG

Coach Jack Gregory's 1964 edition of East Stroudsburg State College's football Warriors will be unveiled to public view Saturday at the fourth annual Red-Black intrasquad game which climaxes the spring grid practice.

Kickoff time will be 12:30 p.m. at the ESSC field.

Student coaches will have full charge of both squads. Toby Barkman, All-Conference half-back who also was a candidate for Little All-America honors the past two years, will coach the Black team. Joe Bahnatka, stellar center who has signed to play with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, will be at the helm of the Red team.

Former players from a r e high schools who will see plenty of action include a pair of Bangor products — Phil Falcone, a linebacker for the Black squad, and Leo Reimer, offensive half-back for the Red team—along with Mike Boushell, a 5-10, 185-pound East Stroudsburg High School graduate who will start as a middle guard for the Red team.

Other players who competed scholastically against Pocono-Slate Belt teams include half-back Bob Freeman of Nazareth, tackles Bill Lobb and George Katchek of Emmaus, quarter-back Roger Beger of Wilson Borough, fullback Steve Kun of Palmerton, and guard Warren Semmel of Lehigh.

Freeman, a six-foot 180-pounder, is a transfer student from the University of Miami. Kun transferred to ESSC from Wichita.

Quarterback Deal

One of the game's feature attractions will be the duel between a pair of sophomore quarterbacks, Glen Ray and Carl Rice, as the two top Warrior candidates for that post oppose each other.

Ray, who is only 5-foot-5-inches and weighs but 150 pounds, is one of the smallest college quarterbacks in the East.

In a scrimmage session last Saturday at Levittown both quarterbacks figures in the only two touchdowns of the game. Rice threw a TD aerial to Jim Wolfe, and Ray ran 23 yards for his team's only score.

Jerry Wasichak has been named captain of the Black squad, while Dick Zapolski who captains the Red team.

Two "Most Valuable Player" awards (one to a lineman, the other to a back) will be selected by a special committee of the press, radio and local high school coaches.

Gregory also has extended invitations to all scholastic football players of the Pocono-Slate Belt area.

"If the weather is good," says Gregory, "this game should be the biggest turnout of any of the previous games."

The game also will serve as a "clinic workshop" for the Northeastern Pennsylvania Chapter of PIAA football officials. At least 10 officials will rotate in working the game.

Javier's Homer Trims Yankees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JULIAN JAVIER, the lightweight of the National League's heavy-weight infield, slugged a two-run homer in the eighth inning Wednesday, giving St. Louis a 5-4 exhibition baseball victory over the New York Yankees.

Second baseman Javier was the weakest hitting member of the Cardinals' infield that started in last year's All-Star game. He hit 263 compared with 304 for first baseman Bill White, 319 for shortstop Dick Groat and 285 for third baseman Ken Boyer.

Javier's hit overshadowed the fact that the Yankees' Mickey Mantle played his first complete spring game. Mantle, who has been bothered by knee trouble, went hitless in four trips to the plate.

Homer Factors

Home runs also were factors in most of the other grapefruit games.

Cleveland got three four-baggers in crushing San Francisco 14-4. It was the Indians' first victory against the Giants in 10 games. Max Alvis, Leon Wagner and John Romano hit homers off starter Billy O'Dell.

While Mays was struck on the right wrist in the first inning on an attempted pickoff throw from the Indians' Dick Donovan, The Giants' star had to leave the game for ice pack treatment but is expected to be all right by Thursday.

Phillies Win

Alex Johnson cracked a two-run homer and Richie Allen a three-runer in sparking Philadelphia over the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-4. Allen also drove in a run with a single. The Dodgers' B team lost to Pittsburgh 11-1.

Minnesota nipped Houston 5-4 on pinch hitter John Gory's two-run homer in the ninth. Jim Wynn's home run had given the Cubs the lead in the eighth.

Home runs by Bong Powell, Russ Snyder and Luis Aparicio carried Baltimore to an 8-1 triumph over Cincinnati. The blasts accounted for six of the runs.

Boston and the Chicago Cubs hit five home runs between them, but it was Dick Bertell's soft line drive single in the 11th that gave the Cubs a 7-6 victory.

The New York Mets defeated Kansas City 11-9, after getting five runs in the fourth inning.

Ramsey, Toby Meet For Title

STROUDSBURG — Ramsey School and Tobyhanna Center will meet for the championship of the Varsity "SS" of Stroudsburg Elementary Schools Basketball Tournament at Stroud Union's gym tonight, starting at 8 p.m.

In the consolation game, Arlington Heights will face Pocono Catholic Missions for the tournament's third place prize. This game will start at 7 p.m.

Last night Ramsey defeated Arlington Heights, 26-11, while Tobyhanna downed Pocono Catholic Mission, 52-12.

No Expansion

The board voted unanimously against expansion despite offers by Kansas City, Chicago and Pittsburgh. Two cities in the Southwest also indicated interest in acquiring a franchise.

The owners are interested at present in solidifying the present nine-team league, Kennedy said. However, he said, there are no special plans to strengthen weaker clubs. They will have to rely on the draft or trades.

Kennedy said television negotiations involve one game every Saturday or Sunday beginning in January 1965. He expected the contract to be signed before the April 28 draft meeting.

The board voted unanimously against expansion despite offers by Kansas City, Chicago and Pittsburgh. Two cities in the Southwest also indicated interest in acquiring a franchise.

The owners are interested at present in solidifying the present nine-team league, Kennedy said. However, he said, there are no special plans to strengthen weaker clubs. They will have to rely on the draft or trades.

Kennedy said television negotiations involve one game every Saturday or Sunday beginning in January 1965. He expected the contract to be signed before the April 28 draft meeting.

Nicklaus, Rain Seen As Nightmares In Masters

Warriors Edge Bloomsburg, 4-3

Tom Washburn

EAST STROUDSBURG —

Tom Washburn poked a tremendous 420-foot homer over the left-centerfield fence and Paul Grube drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly as East Stroudsburg State College won its baseball opener yesterday, 4-3, over Bloomsburg.

The defending champs of the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference rallied for all their runs in the late innings to score the come-from-behind victory.

The Huskies went ahead in the fourth inning when Al Hopkins drove in two runs with a long triple to right field.

Bloomsburg upped the count to 3-0 in the sixth as Bob Viera was safe on a two-base error by third baseman Duane Ely, and John Gara stroked a single to score the run.

Longest Homer

East Stroudsburg got on the scoreboard in the bottom of the sixth when Lou Pachioffi singled and Washburn followed with his prodigious blast — the longest home run ever hit by a Warrior ballplayer.

Washburn last year led the team in homers with four.

The Warriors knotted the score in the seventh when an error by shortstop Lou Gross allowed Ron Hayes to score.

Hayes had led off the inning with a single and advanced to second when Jim Reynolds was hit by a pitch. Pachioffi then hit a double-play ball which was thrown wild by Gross.

East Stroudsburg pushed across the winning run in the eighth when Grube pinch-hit a sacrifice fly to left with the bases loaded.

Winning pitcher Bob Gelatko staved off a ninth-inning threat by Bloomsburg when he made a brilliant diving catch of a hit off the bat of Bob Holden and then threw to second, doubling Tyrone who represented the tying run.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The 28th Masters Golf Tournament opens Thursday with the game's greatest players haunted by a pair of nightmares—a course drenched by days of torrential rains and a pink-cheeked young giant named Jack Nicklaus.

Nicklaus, 24-year-old ball-basher from Columbus, Ohio, has been made a 4-1 favorite to become the first Masters titleholder ever to repeat, and his stature seemed to grow with every inch of water that fell on the beautiful Augusta National course.

"Let it rain," the blond, boyish Nicklaus said Wednesday as he calmly watched rivulets course through Augusta National's little valleys. "Rain or shine I feel I'm ready."

The 210-pound Nicklaus, who in two short years has crushed all professional opposition in his massive arms, is one of 98 players—58 U.S. pros, 15 amateurs and 25 foreigners—who, starting at 9 a.m., EST, will begin the four-day, 72-hole test that has become perhaps the most prestigious tournament in the game.

Top Threats

On the eve of the opening, Nicklaus picked five men whom he considered as having the best chance of wresting away his crown, but he steadfastly refused to concede that any of them could do it.

The Ohio beller listed his chief opposition: Arnold Palmer, seeking his fourth Masters title in six years; Gary Player, the astute little South African who won here in 1961; U.S. Open champion Julius Boros; putting wizard Billy Casper and Chamberlaine Tony Lema, the 1963 runner-up.

"I'd pick them in that order," the outspoken young favorite said.

Palmer, winner of a record $128,000 last year, hasn't won a tournament during the present campaign and has been fighting a putting slump. "I think I've got it kicked," Arnie said. "I'm really geared up for this one."

Await Greatness

Player is suffering from inflamed tonsils but insists they won't hurt his chances. Casper has a bad hand but still knocks in putts from all across the green. Lema is a talented stylist waiting for greatness to strike.

Of the contenders, perhaps the most dangerous at the moment is Boros, the 44-year-old who won at Greensboro last week. A master finisher around the greens, he is at the peak of his game.

The 6,980-yard, par 72 course, renowned as a big hitter's dream because of the many inclines placed in the fairway driving area, has been turned into an awesome monster by more than two inches of rain since Monday.

The Weather Bureau forecast clearing and cooler weather for Thursday. The tournament committee said play would be held as scheduled.

Awarded Trophy

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Cliff Roberts, who with Bob Jones founded the Masters Golf Tournament 30 years ago, was awarded the Bill Richardson Trophy Wednesday for his outstanding contributions to the game.

The award is made annually by the Golf Writers Association of America.

Clubs Hold Joint Session

NEWFOUNDLAND — A joint meeting of the Honesdale, Mt. Pocono and Newfoundland Rotary Clubs at Green's Restaurant was highlighted by a panel discussion of the social and cultural aspects of Vietnam.

Moderator of the panel, which was introduced by Major Robert Miller, of South Sterling, was Warrant Officer Robert Miller, of South Sterling, who had spent a year in Vietnam, and Sergeant First Class Chambers, who had been there for four years. All were from Tobyhanna Army Depot.

Slides were shown at the close of the panel discussion, which revealed how the people live, their monetary exchange, the cost of living, hygiene, sanitation, clothing and entertainment.

It was brought out that the Vietnamese are particularly fond of films in color, regardless of the dialogue. It was also noted that a tailor-made suit, costing some $15 to $20, may be made in two hours. The materials are of the best in the world, but the threads used are not, and that it is advisable to bring your own thread.

Thomas Gangwere, of Greentown, presided as host president. Ray LaVigne, of Greentown, was welcomed into membership.

The Horseshoe Trail in the heart of the Pennsylvania Dutch Country begins at Valley Forge and runs through Chester, Berks, Lancaster, Lebanon and Dauphin Counties. It ends at Manada Gap.

LAFF-A-DAY

'Tune For Every Taste' At Stroud Union Saturday

STROUDSBURG — Guaranteeing all members of the audience "A Tune For Every Taste," the Stroud Union High School choruses, under the direction of Numa Snyder, will present their spring concert in the high school auditorium, Saturday, April 11, at 8 p.m.

Opening the concert with a group of selections appealing to all tastes, the choruses will sing "Ode To Song," from Wagner's opera "Die Meistersinger"; "Draw the Veil from Hopeless Love," from the oratorio, "Solomon," by George Frederick Handel.

Also Harry Simon's choral setting of "Waltz of the Flowers," from Tchaikovsky's ballet, "The Nutcracker." During this group, the girls of the choruses will sing "We Gather Here, Good Neighbors All," from "The Peasant Cantata," by Johann Sebastian Bach.

Jack Irwin, Broadway and TV star, currently making his home in Monroe County, is this year's guest soloist. His group of baritone solos also promise a "Tune For Every Taste" by including a novelty number, an operatic aria, an example of Broadway show music, an art song and a religious number.

Immediately following Irwin's religious selection, the high school choruses returns with several numbers designed to appeal to those who prefer religious music.

They will sing "Cantata Domino," by Pironi; Bach's beautiful and oft-sung choral arrangement of the hymn, "O Sacred Head, Now Wounded;" and finally "Sing and Rejoice," by Will James. The choruses, with Mr. Irwin as soloist, will end this group, and the first half of the concert with "My Journey's End," by Fay Foster.

After intermission the girls' ensemble continues the program in a group of folk songs, with the newly organized Mountain-Airs singing several "Oscar" winning songs, representing the "pop" field. The full chorus finishes the concert with Vincent Youmans' "Without a Song."

Adult tickets are being sold by choruses members. They can also be purchased at the door on the night of the concert. Student tickets will be sold in school and at the door.

Bus With The Betas

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — There's at least one big reason for the popularity of Beta Theta Pi fraternity men with coeds at Ohio State University — a 30-passenger bus.

The fraternity purchased the one-time school bus during the summer, and it's sent out each school day at lunch time to circle the campus and bring the Betas back to their house to eat.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

2700 Applications At ESSC But Only 500 Will Get In

EAST STROUDSBURG — Approximately 2700 high school students have made application for admission to East Stroudsburg State College for the school term beginning September 1964. Of this number, the college will be limited to accepting 500 according to the Director of Admissions, Dr. Theodore M. Moore.

Bloodmobile In Eastburg Monday

"Pledge cards are coming in nicely for next Monday's blood drive," Bernard Frantz, cochairman, said yesterday. "But we still need many more to meet our goal of 125 pints."

Among the first to sign up was Mrs. Keith Tuthill of 883 White St., Stroudsburg. In a letter to Joseph DeFenizis, Monroe County Red Cross blood chairman, she wrote:

"When I pick up The Daily Record and see that The Bloodmobile will be in town, I make a special effort to give. There is a great satisfaction after I have donated and am having coffee with the other donors. It's a wonderful feeling to know that I have done something that may save a life. And it hasn't cost me anything at all."

"Some day I may need blood and I hope that someone donating at that time will give exactly as I do when I give. There is nothing greater in this world than to give of yourself."

The Bloodmobile will be at St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg, from 10:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Co-sponsors of the visit are the Holy Name Society and Knights of Columbus.

Gap Bridge Traffic Increases

MORRISVILLE — Traffic on the Delaware Water Gap Toll Bridge during March showed an increase of 14.80 per cent while revenue decreased .64 per cent as compared to March 1963, Herman Shotwell, chairman of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, said yesterday.

Vehicles using the bridge in March totaled 172,026 and provided a daily average of 5,549 passages. Income for the month totaled $55,257.82 and provided a daily average of $1,782.51.

Figures for March 1963 showed 149,847 vehicles which yielded $55,612.45.

Traffic on the Portland-Columbia Toll Bridge showed an increase of 18.94 per cent with revenue increasing 25.08 per cent as compared to the same period last year.

Vehicles using the bridge totaled 44,703 and provided a daily average of 1,442 passages. Income for the month totaled $7,172.32 for a daily average of $231.37.

The 1963 figures for the same period showed 37,583 vehicle passages. Traffic on the Milford-Montague bridge showed an increase of 15.72 per cent while revenue decreased .16 per cent as compared to March 1963.

During March, 1964, 42,514 vehicles used the bridge to provide a daily average of 1,371 passages. Income for the month totaled $6,429.28 providing a daily average of $207.40.

During March, 1963, 36,740 vehicles yielded $6,204.82 in passages.

Wind Gap Proposal To Be Studied

WIND GAP — Wind Gap council gave its solicitor James Pritchard, a letter from the state department of health regarding the installation of a sewage system in the borough. Pritchard will study the letter and make a report at the next council meeting.

Council authorized the secretary to advertise for bids for 2,000 tons of crushed stone; 10,000 gallons of C-2 asphalt; and 800 tons of 1-2 bituminous asphalt for road work in the borough.

In other business council approved the relocating of a street light now in front of the Zion Presbyterian Church on Water Street to a pole north of the present location and increase the candlepower of the light.

A new traffic signal will be installed at the intersection of Broadway and Center Street.

Council approved a motion to borrow $1,500 from the Citizen's National Bank of Wind Gap. The money will be used to meet current expenses.

In closing action council authorized payment of bills totaling $5,350.05.

Wheat For Red China

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — James Mooney, Australian Wheat Board chairman, said this week that Communist China has contracted to buy 21 million bushels of Australian wheat at a price between $34 million and $39 million.

Frozen at 1800
As previously stated by the college president, Dr. Leftoy J. Koehler, the college staff and facilities are operating at their maximum so therefore the student enrollment must remain frozen at the present figure of approximately 1,800 students.

Dr. Koehler said that although plans are presently activated for expansion of the college facilities, it is humanly impossible to accept more than the stated 500 entering freshmen. The present lack of classrooms, laboratories, and dining area is the major limiting factor in the establishment of the quota for qualified applicants.

Dr. Moore, the college admissions officer, said that it is not an easy task to inform qualified applicants of their rejection but he is fully in accord with the college president's statements concerning the campus physical limitations.

Continuing, Dr. Moore stated that waiting lists for vacancies have been established for September and January entrance.

Five Day Weather Forecasts

Five-day forecasts for Thursday, April 9th, through Monday, April 13th:

Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Southern New York — Temperatures are expected to average two to seven degrees below normal. It will be cooler Thursday, become much cooler during the weekend, then start moderating toward the end of the period. Precipitation may total from one-tenth to one-half inch except more than a half-inch over southern New Jersey occurring as widely scattered showers about Friday and as rain over southern New Jersey about Saturday.

Western Pennsylvania — Temperatures will average four to six degrees below normal highs of 53 to 58 and normal lows of about 35 degrees. It will be cool Thursday, warming on Friday, then cooler over the weekend. Precipitation is expected to average about a quarter-inch in scattered showers the first of next week.

Middle Atlantic States — Temperatures will average three or four degrees below normal. It will be cooler Thursday, warmer Friday, cooler Saturday and warmer Sunday or Monday. Rain over the weekend may total from one-half to three-quarters of an inch.

Adlai Likes Politicking

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson said this week his position probably precludes his participating in politics this year.

The American ambassador to the United Nations, speaking at a news conference preceding the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation dinner, said, "being the old war horse that I am, it will be difficult for me to remain out of the politicking."

He noted, however, that since U.S. foreign policy is conducted on a non-partisan basis, he feels that he wouldn't care to campaign, or that President Johnson "wouldn't want me too."

This doesn't mean I've changed my mind," the ambassador added quickly.

DeGaulle Talk

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle will make a nationwide radio - television speech April 16, dealing with foreign and national affairs, a government spokesman said.

Unfair Labor Practices Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board ordered Bannan Mills, Inc., of Lebanon, Pa., to halt unfair labor practices.

The board's order sustained an Aug. 15, 1963, ruling by trial examiner Thomas S. Wilson. Charges of unfair labor practices were brought against Bannan by Local 108, International Ladies Garment Workers, AFL-CIO.

Wilson found, and the board agreed, that beginning with union organizational activities in May 1962 and continuing into January, 1963, Bannan "deliberately designed to frustrate and undermine the union" in violation of a section of the national labor relations act.
